COAL MINES MAY BE RUN UNDER U. S. REGULATION

Creation of Governing Board Recommended to Senate by Probers of Industry—Chairman Kenyon Prepares Bill Providing for the Tribunal

WASHINGTON—(Associated Press)—A government tribunal for regulation of the coal industry under a statutory code of industrial law enforced only by power of public opinion was recommended in a report presented to the senate today by Chairman Kenyon of the labor committee, which recently investigated disorders in the West Virginia-Kentucky coal fields.

The report held that both coal operators and miners were responsible for the recent fatal conflicts and property destruction in West Virginia and said mutual concessions by the coal operators and United Mine Workers would have to be made to end the conflict.

"The issue is perfectly plain," said Senator Kenyon's report. "The operators in this particular section of West Virginia openly announce that they will not employ men belonging to the unions. * * * And further, that they have the right and will exercise it if they so desire, to discharge a man if he belongs to the unions. * * * On the other hand, the United Mine Workers are determined to unionize these fields, which are practically the only large and important coal fields in the United States not unionized."

FEDERAL TRIBUNAL PLAN.

The proposal for a federal coal tribunal and code of laws applying both to operators and miners was his personal suggestion, Senator Kenyon said.

The proposed government coal board would be organized, under Senator Kenyon's suggestion, like the railway labor board, with three representatives each of the employees, the employers and the public, appointed by the president.

Senator Kenyon announced that later he would introduce a bill covering his plan for the coal board and "code," which follows:

"The right of operators and miners to organize is recognized and affirmed. This right shall not be denied, abridged or interfered in any manner whatsoever, nor coercive measures of any kind be used by employers or employees to exercise or refrain from exercising this right."

"The right of operators and of miners to bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing is recognized and affirmed."

"The miners who are not members of a union have the right to work without being harassed by fellow workers, who may belong to a union. The men who belong to a union have the right to work without being harassed by operators who do not believe in unionism. The operators have a right to go into non-union fields and by peaceful methods try to persuade men to join the union, but they have no right to try to induce employees to violate promises which they have entered into with their employers, and the operators on their part, have the right to use peaceful means to try and persuade men to refrain from joining the union."

RIGHTS OF WOMEN.

"The right of women to engage in industrial occupations is recognized and affirmed; their rates of pay shall be the same as those of male workers for the same or equivalent service performed."

"Children under the age of 16 years shall not be employed in the industry unless permit has been issued under state authority."

"Six days shall be the standard work week. The standard work day shall not exceed eight hours."

"Unpaid overtime shall be paid for hours worked each day in excess of the standard work day."

"When a dispute or controversy arises between operators and mine workers there should be no strike or lockout, pending a conference or hearing for determination of the facts and principles involved."

KANSAS LAW FULFILL.

Senator Kenyon said his plan offered a solution for the coal industry's problem.

The Kansas industrial court idea, involving compulsory arbitration, he said, had been proved futile.

Kenyon's report did not detail nor analyze at length the testimony of the committee in its investigation of the Mingo disturbances.

Members of the United Mine Workers have done acts of violence in this Mingo controversy cannot be denied. * * * The operators have been guilty of practices also, in portions of this region, that cannot be justified."

"The whole story of the contest, however," said Kenyon, "is one of disregard for and breaking of laws; of denial of constitutional laws; of a spirit of suspicion, hate and retaliation on both sides that does not augur well for industrial peace in that portion of the state."

SENATOR DECRIES MANY LAWS

Sanity in Legislation Urged at Ohio Bar Meet

AKRON.—(Associated Press)—If the United States government ever fails, the calamity is less likely to result from external attack than from the decadence of the institutions which constitute its foundation—liberty, law, order, justice—United States Senator Joe T. Robinson, of Arkansas, said in an address today before the Ohio State Bar Association.

Speaking of the necessity for the application of sound principles in law-making and law enforcement, Senator Robinson decried the practice of making thousands of laws, said that the Dyer anti-lynching bill was unconstitutional—and would fail to curb lynchings, that it was of prime importance to enforce the prohibition amendment and maintained that the remedy for strikes cannot be found in laws compelling workers to continue their labors.

UP TO STATES.

Referring to the anti-lynching bill, Senator Robinson pointed out that mob violence is criminal in every state.

"No progress will be made," he said, "in overcoming the mob spirit by enactment of unreasonable or unconstitutional statutes, for such efforts in the end must meet with failure. Since no federal law, constitutionally enacted, can apply to the usual case of lynching, the remedy lies in state authority thru awakening the public conscience against respect for law and confidence in the courts."

STRIKE QUESTION.

Referring to crimes growing out of strikes, the speaker said that laws compel workers to labor for compensation in their opinion inadequate, must prove arbitrary and oppressive.

"This, however," he said, "is very different from constituting government authority to investigate disputes likely to result in strikes and to find the facts and recommend just relief."

Senator Robinson said that the challenges contemptuously and definitely the power of the government.

"But there is no alternative," he said. "The law must be enforced. Good citizens cannot in honor respect and observe only such laws as they approve and connive at."

Statutes they regard as doubtful or unwise policy. This would accomplish the triumph of anarchy over government, the establishment of lawlessness."

300 LAWYERS ATTEND.

AKRON.—(United Press).—The winter meeting of the Ohio State Bar Association opened here today. Three hundred attorneys and judges from various parts of the state were on hand when the first session was called.

Six members of the Ohio supreme court present were Carrington T. Marshall, chief justice; James G. Johnson, of Springfield; Benson W. Hough, of Delaware; R. M. Wanamaker, of Akron; Thomas A. Jones, of Jackson and Edward S. Mathias, of Van Wert. Twenty common pleas and ten court of appeal judges also attended.

RATE INCREASE IN EFFECT FEB. 1

Retroactive Clause Not Clear to Company Officials

CITY TO RENEW ITS FIGHT

Officials Plan to Block Order of State Board

Decision of officials of the Lima Natural Gas company was arrived at Friday morning, to make no effort to enforce a retroactive order of the state utilities commission in fixing rates for natural gas to Lima consumers. The new rates will become effective February 1.

This will save Lima people a large sum of money, the difference between the old rate of 50 cents and the new rate of $1 and upward per thousand feet of gas, from September first until the present time which would be required to be paid should such an order be enforced. CANNOT CONSTRUCT ORDER.

Officials of the gas company, Frank Pringle, manager, announced Friday, received and studied a copy of the order of the utilities commission, entered into Thursday. The retroactive clause, he said, was not clear. He said officials doubted there is authority for collections dating back to September 1st.

"We are not satisfied with the rates fixed by the commission," Pringle asserted, "but we will carry out the orders of the commission and endeavor to make the income derived meet requirements for the conduct of the business."

But a retroactive clause in the order was made positively plain and there should be no question about our authority to enforce it, we would doubt the advisability of endeavoring to do so. You may say that no such attempt will be made and that the only part of the order to be made effective is the change of rates."

RATES EFFECTIVE FEBRUARY 1.

The utilities commission, after considering the Lima gas rate situation for several weeks, voted an order providing for $1 per thousand for the first 5,000 feet of gas consumed, $1.05 per thousand for the second 5,000 feet, $1.10 per thousand for the third 5,000 feet and $1.15 per thousand for all over 15,000 feet. Minimum charge per month is $1.25 to each consumer, the order provides.

The order is effective for three years, dating from September 1, 1921.

The minimum charge order, as construed, means that a consumer is charged $1.25 per month, no matter how small the amount of gas used. That charge is effective up to and including 1,200 feet of gas. It the meter reading shows 1,300 feet has been consumed, the charge will be $1.30.

CITY COMMISSION WAITS.

In the absence of the official text of the utilities commission's decision, members of the city commission stated Friday no action will be taken by them until it is received and digested.

"We will probably take some action," declared Harold Cunningham, president. "No meeting of the commission has been called. When we receive the official notice we will know what to do."

Manager Clarence A. Bingham would not discuss the new rate. He declared he knew nothing about the matter, save the accounts published in the newspapers. The text of the decision of the commission was received at city hall at noon.

That court action will be resorted to was the opinion of Commissioner Earl Rohn.

SUPREME COURT TO DECIDE.

"I believe that the supreme court will be asked to decide whether or not the rate is fair," he declared. The decision, according to Rohn, is no surprise, except as to the retroactive clause.

The order of the public utilities granting a $1 rate was denounced as an outrage by former Solicitor Garling, who conducted the litigation for the city.

He stated, however, that it had been the idea all along that the utilities body would grant the gas company an increase.

"All of our action in the case before the utilities," he said, "was done with the idea, that the case was a step to the supreme court where the ultimate verdict will be given."

"I have nothing to do with the matter now as it is up to my successor," Garling said.

Solicitor Paul T. Landis expects instructions from the commission to appeal the rate order to the supreme court.

COMMISSION EXPLAINS GAS RATE FOR LIMA.

COLUMBUS.—(United Press).—Natural gas rates fixed for Lima by the public utilities commission, starting at $1 a thousand cubic feet, were defended today by members of the commission, as "absolutely justified and the only rates that could be established under conditions existing."

PRINCESS SAD BECAUSE SHE CAN'T BE JUST PLAIN GIRL

PRINCESS YOLANDA OF ITALY AND HER LITTLE SISTER, PRINCESS MARIA.

ROME—(Special)—If you were a royal princess would you not desire in life to be just a plain girl?

Alas, she really wants, so she tells her intimates, to live quietly just like a simple middle-class girl.

DEVOTED TO PARENTS.

First of all she is devoted to her father and mother, her sisters and brothers. Of course all the world is talking about the rumor of Yolanda's engagement to the heir of the Belgian throne.

The Italian royal family is noted as being the most democratic, the most "bourgeois" in its happy home life of all kingly circles.

Queen Helena, who has brought up her children just as any unroyal mother of the middle class would, has never scorned being a regular housewife. King Victor Emmanuel doesn't mind letting the world know that his greatest joy is in the simple home pleasures.

As for Princess Yolanda, she tries her own hats, makes her own dresses, her own underwear. Her greatest delight is when she plays at mothering her favorite sister, little Princess Maria, and is permitted to make her clothes for her.

LIVES REAL PLEASURES.

Yolanda can cook spaghetti better than a chef. Her happiest days are when the royal family, free from servants, motors to one of their country places near Rome and has a real "American picnic."

During the war Yolanda worked in hospitals. One of her great friends was former Ambassador to Italy, Thomas Nelson Page. She used to ask him tireless questions about American girls. In the royal library are many books beloved of Yolanda, presented to her by this author-diplomat.

Yolanda is a little princess who doesn't want to grow up even to become a queen.

If she were to change places with some American girl who longs to be a royal princess, she could take charge of an American home, from cooking, cleaning, to darning, and dreaming in a way to put the modern American flapper to shame.

appeared almost prohibitive, but said no other course was open to them under the law which requires that a utility is entitled to a reasonable return for its services.

"Conditions are unusual at Lima," said George T. Poor, chairman of the commission. "The Lima Natural Gas Company is paying 45 cents a thousand feet for its gas. Its property is worth $713,500. To supply 437,000,000 feet of gas to its consumers, it has to buy 502,000,000 feet because 65,000,000 feet is lost by leakage."

"Considering its investment, there is comparatively small demand for gas. Average consumption is only 3,000 feet a month per consumer. The company therefore, must make more per cubic foot than if the demand was doubled. Under all these conditions, which we considered carefully, we could not fix a lower rate."

MOTHER, SON SHOT.

Dayton Man Accused of Attacking the Family

DAYTON.—(United Press).—Miss Lily Smith, 42, and her son Harold Kuntz, 4, are in a critical condition in the Miami Valley Hospital as a result of bullet wounds alleged to have been inflicted by George E. Smith, husband of the dying woman.

The shooting is said to have occurred about 7:30 p. m. last night when Smith entered the home of his wife from whom he was separated last Thursday.

Witnesses told police Smith was drunk and began shooting, three bullets entering the body of his wife, one beneath the left eye another in the left side and another in the left arm. He was shot twice, one bullet piercing the right eye and another the right arm near the elbow.

No hopes were held for Mrs. Smith's recovery. The boy is expected to recover.

BATTLE FOLLOWS DARING HOLDUP

$95,000 is Taken by Robbers in Pittsburgh

SURROUNDED BY THE POLICE

Bandits Take Refuge in Building, Make Getaway

PITTSBURGH.—(Associated Press).—Five bandits today robbed the First National bank of Crafton, a suburb, of $15,000 in money and $80,000 in Liberty bonds after killing Harold Moss, assistant cashier, who tried to defend the institution.

The men escaped in an automobile, but were intercepted on the North Side by a party of city detectives on their way to the scene of the robbery. After a spectacular pistol battle, the men abandoned their car and sought shelter in a house on Pennsylvania-ave, not far from the Fort Wayne yards of the Pennsylvania railroad. The house was surrounded but the bandits escaped.

STREETS GUARDED.

George McCandless, director of public safety threw a cordon of police around that entire section of the city, with instructions to guard every street and search all houses.

Soon afternoon the director reported that two men and a woman were being detained for examination.

First news of the robbery was sent out by Miss Margaret Greer, a clerk. She was walking from the vault where she had been at work when a bandit approached her, and pointing his pistol at her head, ordered her "to line up against the wall." She was standing within reaching distance of the electric button controlling the burglar alarm, and pretending to swoon, she threw out her arm in such manner as to touch the button. Instantly the bell sounded in Crafton police station.

Within an hour after the robbery a party of detectives on their way to the bank met an automobile filled with men on the North Side. The order to stop was answered by a fusillade of shots, and the car kept going. The detectives lost a little time in turning, but soon overtook the bandits who abandoned their car and scattered. They dashed into buildings in the vicinity of Pennsylvania and Irwin-aves, with the detectives close on their heels.

LOOT RECOVERED.

While some of the officers followed the fleeing robbers, who were answering their firing shot for shot, others took charge of the car, and found what they believed to be all of the loot taken from the bank.

Meantime, the bandits had run thru the buildings facing the street and out of the back doors into byways and alleys. They were so closely followed by the police, now reinforced by all the available reserves on the North Side and motorcycle men from the downtown districts that they took refuge in a house on Pennsylvania-ave.

PIKE ON POLICE.

Stationing themselves at advantageously located windows they opened fire on the police who prepared to rush the building. A great crowd, attracted by the firing, gathered in the vicinity and watched the battle.

After an exchange of shots between the house and the policemen in the street, firing from the house slackened and finally ceased. A cordon of police was thrown around the entire section by George McCandless, director of public safety, who with Police Superintendent John (Albion) took command of the policemen who had been ordered from their beats in all parts of the city.

The automobile used in the robbery was taken to central police station where it was found that the car had been riddled with bullets. It contained two pistols of heavy calibre, and a package, believed to be the loot from the bank, but the contents of which the police refused to make public.

ROBBERS GET $18,000.

HATTIESBURG, Miss.—(Associated Press).—The Girault Motor Co. of this city, was robbed of $18,000 in bonds and commercial paper early today by three men who held up the night clerk, according to a report to the police.

Grady Bishop, the night clerk, told the police he was confronted about 2:30 a. m. by two masked white men at the point of their revolvers, forced him to open the office cash register. Locking him in a closet, Bishop said, the robbers then forced the safe and picked open the inner door. Officials of the company said that while none of the stocks and bonds were negotiable, some were not listed and might not be easily replaced.

The police were of the opinion that the robbery was carried out by one thoroughly familiar with the situation in the company's offices and with the arrangements of the building.

GIRL SOUGHT BY DETECTIVES

Charged With Kidnaping Child in Chicago Warrant

CHICAGO.—(By United Press).—Chicago detectives dashed toward Ogden, Utah, today, with a warrant charging Miss Frances MacLane with kidnaping George B. Robbins, III, three years old.

The boy is the grandson of George Robbins, for 37 years a vice-president of Armour and Company, and the son of Cutler H. Robbins, capitalist.

The warrant for Mrs. MacLane was sworn out by the child's mother, Mrs. Mary Roberts, former tollies chorus girl, who was divorced by the father.

Miss MacLane's mad race to the coast with the child was interrupted when she was taken off the train at Ogden at the instance of Chicago authorities.

Detective Sergeant Birmingham and McGinnis then started out to serve the warrant.

At the same time, according to members of the Robbins family here, the father left San Francisco for Ogden to obtain the release of Miss MacLane. The divorced Mrs. Robbins stated that Miss MacLane and her former husband were engaged.

"He divorced me, charging I boxed his ears and slapped his face," she said. "He was granted the custody of the child, but it was stipulated I could have George at stated times. He was in my keeping when Miss MacLane took him away."

DRY DRIVE ANNOUNCED.

CHICAGO.—Miss Anna A. Gordon, president of the W. C. T. U., announced that the union will carry on a prohibition campaign in Cuba and Mexico.

SLEEP ON FLOORS OF ASYLUMS

Treatment of Disabled Soldiers Described by Writer

48 PER CENT FARMED OUT

Patients Increasing and Hospitals Are Overcrowded

(BY HARRY HUNT)

COLUMBUS — Uncle Sam's reward to some 4,000 disabled veterans of the World War is—

Bed and board in overcrowded and under-equipped state and private asylums, where they are held in common with the criminal insane and the pauper half-wit; detained behind barred doors and locked gates, but with no medical or nursing treatment designated to restore their mental balance.

Under favorable conditions and skillful care, psychopathic experts agree, from 25 to 50 per cent of these men might be restored to approximate normal.

Under present conditions even minor mental disorders may soon be aggravated and inflamed into hopelessly incurable insanity.

The situation in Ohio presumably is about on a par with those in other states where there is no government hospital to receive mentally disabled veterans. On the basis of a thorough inquiry into conditions under which mentally disabled soldiers are held in Ohio institutions, these conditions are used to illustrate their plight generally.

MANY "FARMED OUT"

Approximately 10,000 "mental cases" have developed among the ranks of disabled veterans. Of this number 48 per cent have been "farmed out" to state and county or private institutions. In these institutions they receive "custodial care."

They do not receive treatment, or nursing designed to rehabilitate their reason.

Mentally disabled veterans are "farmed out" by Uncle Sam to the seven state asylums in Ohio. He pays the state $247.50 a year for their bed and board. The cost to the state of the care is given those men varies from $226 to $310. The balance is profit.

Ohio's annual profit on the disabled veterans now housed in her institutions is about $125,000.

What are the conditions under which these men are held?

At Longview Hospital, Cincinnati, where mentally unsound veterans from Hamilton county are committed, more than 240 inmates sleep on the corridor floors. Every patient, on admittance, must sleep on the floor, for there are no beds for the receiving ward.

What can be the reaction of such conditions on the minds of men already unbalanced?

PATIENTS INCREASING

Dr. Emerson Smith, noted alienist, superintendent of Longview, laments conditions but declares that with no new facilities provided and with a steady increase in patients, he can do no better.

"We have here a large boarding house for the insane," he declares. "Our means for effecting cures are limited."

At the Cleveland State Hospital, where other mentally disabled soldiers are held, overcrowding has reached the point where the old post-house is used as a dormitory for 100 men. It is a ramshackle firetrap. Fifty other patients are housed in an abandoned laundry building.

Under present conditions, Dr. Guy H. Williams, superintendent, says, Ohio's state hospitals are "merely prisons where insane persons are confined." There are no facilities for separation of patients and for proper assistance and care of curable cases.

At the Athens State Hospital, where other insane veterans are housed, 48 men in advanced stages of tuberculosis are housed directly over the main dining room; there is no separation of curables from incurables; there is no hospital for the physically sick; no treatment for the mentally ailing.

Such are the conditions in which many of the men who sacrificed their reason in their country's battle for liberty are cared for by a generous government!

UP TO CONGRESS

The responsibility for this condition rests directly on Congress.

There was no lack of appropriations to keep the men fit for fighting while the war was on.

With the end of the war, however, Congress began to retrench. The farming out of its disabled veterans appeared, for the immediate present.

PRIVATE PHONE EXCHANGE FOR TEN STATIONS IN CITY BUILDING IS NOW PLANNED

Taxpayers who wish to communicate with officials in the city hall in the future will have but one number to remember.

Seven telephones now in use in as many offices in the building are to be taken out and replaced with a private exchange in the water works office. An operator will be employed to handle the switch-board. The improvement is being inaugurated by the Lima Telephone & Telegraph company, H. E. Simonton, stated Friday.

"I have been trying for years," he declared, "to get the city to put in a private exchange. It has been impossible to do so heretofore because every official wanted his own telephone."

The switch-board will connect with ten telephones in the city building.

Later, Simonton, announced, individual telephones in the safety building are to be replaced with a private exchange. There are now five lines in the building.

RAY SISSON HELD IN $10,000 BOND

Must Answer to Court for Theft of Auto and Butter Fat Sugar

Ray Sisson, 20, 1014 N. Jackson-st., was held Friday morning in criminal court on a charge of stealing a Ford truck from the White Mountain Creamery company and four cans of butter fat sugar from the R. L. Graham ice cream plant. Judge Jackson bound Sisson over to the grand jury in $5,000 bond on each count.

Testimony incriminating to Sisson was given by E. A. Driver and Clyde Hutt, identified with the Findlay Dairy company, where Sisson tried to sell ten cans of cream and condensed milk mixture January 12, they stated.

George McDonnell, manager of the R. L. Graham company, told four cans of butter fat sugar, shipped from New Hampshire, were stolen from the Ohio Electric plant at the Ohio Electric station. There was 413 pounds of the stuff, worth $45.43, he said. The cans are worth $4 each.

Armed Mandary, 26, colored, 410 N. Union-st., declared Sisson met him the night he is alleged to have stolen the truck and sugar and offered him a ride "in the country."

They started out at 8:30 and became lost, bringing up in the morning near Rawson with a burned out hearing in the car, Mandary said. Sisson walked into Findlay to make arrangements to dispose of the stuff, leaving him with the truck, Mandary said. Clyde Hutt testified he brought the contents of the cars to the city.

Mandary was held for several days by police for alleged complicity, but no affidavit was filed against him. He declared to the court that he was unaware of Sisson's intentions. On previous occasions, the Findlay men said, Sisson brought cream to them and represented that his name was Charles Summers, his home in Buffalo.

Frank Koninski, manager of the White Mountain company, declared the truck was stolen the same night the butter fat sugar disappeared. He identified it as the same one in which Sisson is charged with having hauled the milk product to Rawson.

Sisson's young wife, who has been with him almost constantly at the jail, was a spectator in the court room.

VETS ARE HELD IN COMMON WITH CRIMINALS

SLEEP ON FLOORS OF ASYLUMS

Treatment of Disabled Soldiers Described by Writer

48 PER CENT FARMED OUT

Patients Increasing and Hospitals Are Overcrowded

(BY HARRY HUNT)
COLUMBUS—Uncle Sam's reward to some 4,000 disabled veterans of the World War is—

Bed and board in overcrowded and under-equipped state and private asylums, where they are held in common with the criminal insane and the pauper half-wit; detained behind barred doors and locked gates, but with no medical or nursing treatment designated to restore their mental balance.

Under favorable conditions and skillful care, psychopathic experts agree, from 25 to 50 per cent of these men might be restored to approximate normal.

Under present conditions even minor mental disorders may soon be aggravated and inflamed into hopelessly incurable insanity.

The situation in Ohio presumably is about on a par with those in other states where there is no government hospital to receive mentally disabled veterans. On the basis of a thorough inquiry into conditions under which mentally disabled soldiers are held in Ohio institutions, these conditions are used to illustrate their plight generally.

MANY "FARMED OUT"
Approximately 10,000 "mental cases" have developed among the ranks of disabled veterans. Of this number 48 per cent have been "farmed out" to state and county or private institutions. In these institutions they receive "custodial care." They do not receive treatment or nursing designed to rehabilitate their reason.

Mentally disabled veterans are "farmed out" by Uncle Sam to the seven state asylums in Ohio. He pays the state $547.50 a year for their bed and board. The cost to the state of the care is given these men varies from $226 to $310. The balance is profit.

Ohio's annual profit on the disabled veterans now housed in her institutions is about $1,250,000.

What are the conditions under which these men are held?

At Longview Hospital, Cincinnati, where mentally disabled veterans from Hamilton county are committed, more than 240 inmates sleep on the corridor floors. Every patient, on admittance, must sleep on the floor, for there are no beds for the receiving ward.

What can be the reaction of such conditions on the minds of men already unbalanced?

PATIENTS INCREASING
Dr. Emerson North, noted alienist, superintendent of Longview, laments conditions but declares that with no new facilities provided and with a steady increase in patients, he can do no better.

"We have here a large boarding house for the insane," he declares. "Our means for effecting cures are limited."

At the Cleveland State Hospital, where other mentally disabled soldiers are held, overcrowding has reached the point where the old post-houses are used as a dormitory for 100 men. It is a ramshackle firetrap. Fifty other patients are housed in an abandoned laundry building. Under present conditions, Dr. Guy H. Williams, superintendent, says, Ohio's state hospitals are "merely prisons where insane persons are confined." There are no facilities for separation of patients and for proper assistance and care of curable cases.

At the Athens State Hospital where other insane veterans are housed, 46 men in advanced stages of tuberculosis are housed directly over the main dining room; there is no separation of curables from incurables; there is no hospital for the physically sick; no treatment for the mentally ailing.

Such are the conditions in which many of the men who sacrificed their reason in their country's battle for liberty are cared for by a generous government!

UP TO CONGRESS

The responsibility for this condition rests directly on Congress.

There was no lack of appropriations to keep the men fit for fighting while the war was on.

With the end of the war, however, Congress began to renege. The turning out of its disabled veterans appeared, for the immediate present.

IF YOU ARE THIN AND EMACIATED AND WISH SOMETHING TO HELP YOU PUT ON FLESH AND INCREASE YOUR WEIGHT,

Test Vitamine tablets should be used in connection with organic Nuxated Iron. Without organic iron both food and Vitamines are absolutely useless, as your body cannot change inert, lifeless food into living cells and tissues. In your blood, organic iron takes up oxygen from water and your digested food at it is absorbed into your blood just as fire enters with coal or wood, and by so doing it creates tremendous power and energy. Without organic iron in your blood your food merely passes thru your body without doing you any good.

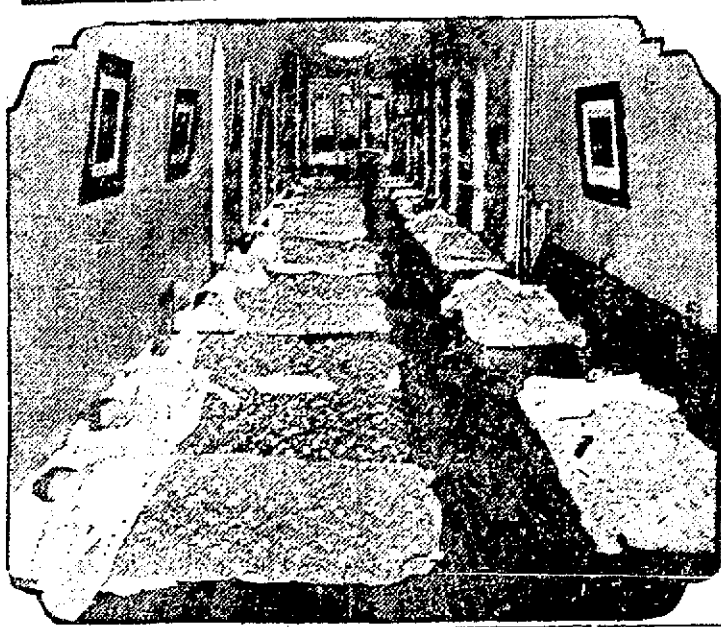

Arrangements have been made with the druggists of this city to give every man of this paper a large 51.00 package of Genuine Yeast Vitamine Tablets absolutely free with every purchase of a bottle of Nuxated Iron.

WHERE EX-SERVICE MEN ARE HOUSED

Longview Asylum at Cincinnati, O. Below, Longview inmates sleeping on the floor in corridors because of overcrowded conditions.

The easy and cheap way to provide for their care.

Today, however, the need for additional hospitals for the care of mental and tubercular cases among veterans is increasing, not decreasing. The maximum need for hospitals for treatment of these cases, it is estimated, will not be reached until 1925.

The government has, it should be said, set up 13 hospitals for the care of mental cases among ex-soldiers. Of these only one—St. Elizabeth's at Washington—was originally built for that purpose. All the rest are makeshifts. At these hospitals there are now, theoretically, beds for 5240 patients.

Additions to hospitals, to provide for a total of 7832 mental cases, have been authorized by Congress.

But figures show that these additions will not make possible the removal of men now turned out to state asylums. For by the time these additions are completed—in about a year—the increase in the number of cases to be cared for will more than have offset the new beds provided.

Experts in touch with the ratio of growth of post-war insanity maintain that immediate provision for another 3500 beds must be made.

That will mean, at the outset, an appropriation of about $8,000,000. The physical well-being and mental rehabilitation of some 11,000 veterans is at stake.

CITY TAKES OVER CARE OF AUTOS USED BY THE CITY HEALTH DEPARTMENT

Motor cars belonging to the Lima Health department hereafter will be cared for by employees of the street department and housed in the city garage near the Market house. It was decided at a meeting of the board of health held in the city manager's office Thursday night.

Mechanics will "oil and water" the "flivvers" each day and make minor repairs.

Charles F. Stolzenbach, 724 W. Market-st. was elected chairman of the board and will preside at all meetings. He has been a member of the board for 30 years.

Salary of Harry N. Osgood, secretary, was raised from $300 to $200. Health conditions in Lima are normal, reports of sanitary officers showed.

LEPROUS ADMITTED.

CINCINNATI—Carl Oscar Peterson of Rockford, Ill., today is patient at the Cook-co hospital suffering from leprosy. For five years he treated himself with patent medicines, thinking he had a skin disease.

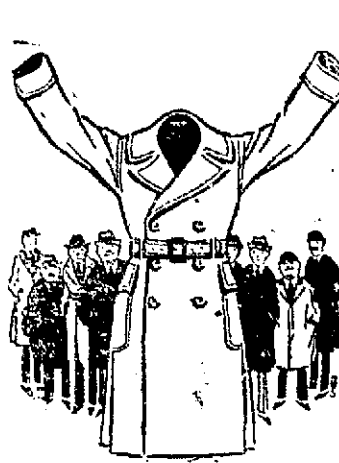

"There is nothing remarkable about our accepting a leprosy patient," said Dr. Robert T. Vaughan, superintendent of the hospital.

TWO WILLS FILED.

The wills of Mrs. Esther Swan, and of Eugene Klopp, late of Lima, have been filed in probate court.

Dates of hearing have not been set.

RAY SISSON HELD IN $10,000 BOND

Must Answer to Court for Theft of Auto and Butter Fat Sugar

Ray Sisson, 20, 1014 N. Jackson-st., was held Friday morning in criminal court on a charge of stealing a Ford truck from the White Mountain Creamery company and four cans of butter fat sugar from the R. L. Graham ice cream plant. Judge Jackson bound Sisson over to the grand jury in $5,000 bond on each count.

Testimony incriminating to Sisson was given by E. A. Driver and Clyde Hutt, identified with the Findlay Dairy company, where Sisson tried to sell ten cans of cream and condensed milk mixture January 12, they stated.

George McDowell, manager of the R. L. Graham company, told how four cans of butter fat sugar, shipped from New Hampshire, were stolen from the Ohio Electric plant at the Ohio Electric station. There was 413 pounds of the stuff, worth $45.43, he said. The cans are worth $1 each.

Arnold Mandary, 25, colored, 410 N. Union-st., declared Sisson met him the night he is alleged to have stolen the truck and sugar and offered him a ride "in the country." They started out at 8:30 and became lost, bringing up in the morning near Rawson with a burned out hearing in the car, Mandary said. Sisson walked into Findlay to make arrangements to dispose of the stuff, leaving him with the truck, Mandary said. Clyde Hutt testified he brought the contents of the cans to the city.

Mandary was held for several days by police for alleged complicity, but no affidavit was filed against him. He declared to the court that he was unaware of Sisson's intentions. On previous occasions, the Findlay men said, Sisson brought cream to them and represented that his name was Charles Summers, his home in Bufton.

Frank Kominski, manager of the White Mountain company, declared the truck was stolen the same night the butter fat sugar disappeared. He identified it as the same one in which Sisson is charged with having hauled the milk product to Rawson.

Sisson's young wife, who has been with him almost constantly at the jail, was a spectator in the court room.

PLAN TO PREVENT OVERDRAFTS

Better Business Bureau to Stop Worthless Check Fund

To halt a flood of worthless checks being loosed on Lima business men, will be one of the early endeavors of the Lima Better Business bureau.

In recent months the practice of drawing a check without sufficient funds in the bank to cover, has become more and more prevalent. The persons doing so probably have accounts, but their balances are not large.

The practice multiplies the work in the banks of the city. "For every doubtful check presented, an accurate check up in all departments has to be made. The interruption jolts the routine of the institution out of order, resulting in confusion and annoyance, bankers state."

"Few persons now realize," said Howard Dean, of the Lima Trust Co., "that the law has been changed and that it is now a crime to draw a check without funds to cover."

The banks have put up with this practice for years, but feel that the time has come to call a halt, it is declared by officials of the financial institutions.

2 PER CENT DIVIDEND ON B. & O. PREFERRED

Holders of B. & O. preferred stock will receive a two per cent dividend, March 22, a result of the semi-annual directors' meeting held January 25 in New York.

The amount is payable to stockholders of record February 8, 1932.

SHE IS "FULL OF PEP" THEY SAY

She is Good-Looking and Gay and is Always Ready for a Good Time

Why is a girl popular? Look around and see what a good time the good-looking ones have all the time. Men seek them out and ask them to parties, dances and entertainments. And notice that it is not a doll-face type real men-like most, but the red-blooded girl with "pep" and happy good nature. Any girl who is tired and languid and has a poor complexion and dull eyes can improve her condition and be far happier if she will simply take Gude's Pepto-Mangan until she has put her blood into good condition. Red blood means "full of life" and "full of life" usually means happiness.

Try Gude's Pepto-Mangan and see how much better you feel. Doctors have used it nearly thirty years for weak, run-down people. It helps them get well. Sold in both liquid and tablet form.—Adv.

MAN, WIFE TAKEN ON AUTO CHARGE

Wanted in Wapak on Accusation of Concealing Stolen Car

Two Lima persons were arrested by Lima authorities Thursday night and Friday morning and held for Sheriff Bob Ewing of Auglaize-co. They are Charles Biteman, 21, of 119 N. West-st and his wife Pauline, 23. The warrant carried by Ewing charges them with concealing stolen property.

According to the Auglaize-co officer, the Bitemans are wanted in connection with the theft of a Buick touring car from C. E. Green, Red-ke, Ind., in December 1921. The complaint is from McGinnis, Nun-ca, Ind., who declares to sold the machine to Green. The latter made a part payment being arrested, and McGinnis took a mortgage for $700. Investigation by McGinnis followed, according to the sheriff, when he learned that the car was in the possession of Homer Patterson, Waynesfield. Ewing said the Bitemans traded the Buick to Patterson for a Ford coupe. The woman's name appears on the bill of sale as a principal and the man's name as a witness, he declared.

Mrs. Biteman, who was arrested at 12:05 a. m. Friday at 541 Find-lust-st by Officer Kipker, Hargrove and Koller, was taken to Wapak-oneta early Friday morning by Sheriff Ewing. Biteman appeared at the police station Friday morning, looking for his wife. He was arrested by Tunkov, Abe Vinegar. Ewing made another trip to Lima at noon to land Biteman in the Auglaize-co jail.

FATHER AND SON ASSEMBLY INTERESTS LUTHERAN YOUNG MEN IN ENTERING MINISTRY

As a result of a Father and Son gathering of the Bethany Lutheran church brotherhood, Thursday night in the Harper block, Main and North-sts, one young man declared he will study for the ministry and six others declared they would give it serious consideration.

Young men were invited to register their names for attendance at Wittenberg college, Springfield, a Lutheran institution. The response was very enthusiastic, according to Rev. W. C. Spayde, pastor.

Rev. John W. Berger of Wapak-oneta addressed the meeting on "Brotherhood" and explained stereotypical views of college life. Dr. Charles Bannell, college secretary, Harrisburg, Penn., college secretary of the board of education of the United Lutheran churches, lectured on college training and the need of men for the ministry.

A banquet was held at 6:30. The affair was in the nature of an indoor picnic. One hundred and forty attended.

Such meetings are fostered by the Wittenberg college to encourage young men and women to take a college education and influence the former to enter the clergy.

Trial of the case of J. M. Smith, grocer, against the Simmons Collecting agency, is occupying the attention of Judge F. C. Becker and a jury in common pleas court, Friday.

FREIGHT CUT ORDERED ON VITRIFIED PRODUCTS

COLUMBUS—Reduction in the cost of municipal sewage projects and in state highway drain tile contracts was indicated here today when the public utilities commission ordered a reduction of freight rates on vitrified products in Ohio.

Vitrified products have been shipped on a sixth class basis, but the commission ordered the carriers to transport the products at 75 per cent of sixth class, a reduction of 25 per cent in the rates.

In ordering the reduction, the commission pointed out rates on vitrified products have increased approximately 110 per cent since October 1914 and that Ohio rates have increased "considerably more." The commission also declared nearly $20,000,000 was invested in the manufacture of the products in Ohio and that Ohio produces more than 30 per cent of all this sort of goods manufactured in the United States.

3 DIVORCE SUITS FILED IN HOUR

Two Wives, One Husband, Plaintiffs in Actions

SERIOUS CHARGES MADE

Another Began Late Thursday, Added to Trio

Arguments of attorneys that a very hot spell of real cold weather followed by a galaxy of divorce suits, was fully exemplified Friday morning when, within period of an hour, three suits were placed on record.

One of the actions was filed just before noon of the court house, Thursday evening, that of Dollice Purdy against John C. Purdy.

PURDY CHARGED

McKenna in his action against his wife Margaret McKenna, who left him April 1919, charged her with adultery, desertion and failure to support him. He was Dollice May House before her marriage in Wapakoneta in April, 1919.

tember 11, 1915, and have no children.

Mrs. Julia Osborne, in a suit for divorce against Vaughn Osborn, charges her husband treated her with contempt, ordered her from their home and threatened to leave her. She says he was of a quarrelsome disposition and continually nagged her. Cruelty is alleged.

They were married in Bucyrus June 16, 1920, and have no children.

Mrs. Lucina Point is seeking a decree from John Point, to whom she was married in Lima Christmas day, 1919. She declares her husband is indolent, will not work and compels her to furnish him with food. Cruelty is also charged. She was Lucina Hefner before her marriage.

Dollie May Purdy, in her action for divorce, charges her husband told her to get out and look after herself, providing her no home nor place of abode. For days at a time, she says, he refuses to talk to her and withholds his association and companionship.

FALSE ACCUSATIONS.

He circulated false and slanderous statements about her, she says, saying she associated with other men.

She was granted an injunction preventing Purdy from encumbering his interest in their home at 909 Bellefontaine-av and from removing a deposit of $1,000 which he has in a building and loan association. She was Dollice May House before her marriage in Wapakoneta in April, 1919.

HARDING ASKS AID FOR JOBLESS

Tells Department Heads to Start Up Repair Work

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — Aid of the war, navy, agriculture, treasury, interior and commerce departments in providing work for the unemployed was requested by President Harding today in a letter addressed to the heads of these departments.

The executive suggested that in those six departments there might be repair and construction work which could be undertaken now when "the most difficult period of the winter is still before us," rather than later in the year.

"The response of employing interests throughout the country to the appeal for special efforts to afford employment to the greatest possible extent during the winter has produced highly gratifying results," the president said, "thanks to this fine co-operation the situation has been much less difficult during the winter than it might otherwise have been."

"States and cities as well as private companies and individuals have taken comprehensive and effective measures than probably has ever been taken before in such a situation. The national self-sacrifice of the American association has been supplemented in these times by neighborly help, by part time work, by odd jobs, employers have to a marked degree exercised themselves to find work for employees and have anticipated repair and construction operation, which otherwise would have remained to be taken up later."

COLLECTION AGENCY IS DEFENDANT IN $132 SUIT

M. T. Germain has sued the Simon Brothers Collection company, Lima, for $132.33, charging they have not complied with their contract to pay monthly sums collected for him, less 10 per cent commission.

Germain, who entered into a contract with them for collection of outstanding debts, declares they failed to pay him monthly and turn over amounts collected. He has been under contract with them two years.

Germain asks an accounting especially since January 1, 1922.

URGE ACTION ON SHELTER PLAN

Citizens Endorse Suggestion by Henry G. Wenner

Possibility of a number of business men conceiving their influence to compel immediate action by the city in providing temporary quarters on the public square as a shelter for street car patrons, appeared likely Friday when two Lima citizens declared themselves in favor of the suggestions offered by Henry G. Wenner.

C. W. Tolon, vice president of The Lima Trust Co., branded the "laxity in providing suitable quarters" as "deplorable in the face of the fact that persons who must wait on cars to the square are courting illness."

"Some sort of shelter should be provided immediately," Tolon declared. "These winter days are dangerous from a health standpoint, and the danger is increased when a person is required to stand out in an open place waiting for a street car. A tent or some kind of temporary shelter should be put up now and then let work start as soon as possible on constructing a permanent structure on the public square," he declared.

Jeff Morris, of Morris Bros. Clothing store, urged the city to act quickly. He said many cities even smaller than Lima have commodious comfort stations. He cited Asheville, N. C., in particular.

He said in that southern town of 20,000 population a modern comfort station has been provided. "It could do credit to a number of hotels," he said.

"We should have temporary quarters now. Something ought to be done to protect people from the weather. Many people or the majority I would say, are ready to pay their share of taxes to protect the folks who must ride the street cars to get to and from their places of employment."

"When the city is ready to erect a permanent transfer station let's insist on one that is up-to-date," Morris declared.

R. B. Dunn, manager of The Deisel Store, said he is not ready yet to make a statement, but is considering what should be done.

FUEL COMPANY WINS $178 VERDICT FROM C. C. REED

Judgment for $178 was granted the General Western Fuel company against C. C. Reed, residing near Spencerville, by a jury in common pleas court late Thursday.

The company shipped Reed a carload of coal, on which he refused to pay the freight, it was alleged. It was allowed to stand on the Erie tracks near Spencerville until freight and demurrage had reached $275, testimony showed.

The Erie Railroad company sold it for $32.25. The fuel company asked judgment for $326, price of the coal, freight and demurrage, minus the money the Erie received from the sale.

Be Careful What You Wash Your Hair With

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

NINE LANGUAGES IN ONE STORE

International Situation in New Danzig Shown

INTERESTS CONFLICTING

Result of Free City Created by Versailles Pact

DANZIG.—(Associated Press.)—
This old German port on the Baltic, created a free city by the Treaty of Versailles in order to give the Poles access to the sea is becoming internationalized and a center of conflicting interests.

One of Danzig's largest stores advertises that nine languages are spoken by its clerks, and the colors of England, France, Poland, Italy,
Sweden, Lithuania, Spain, Norway and Denmark greet visitors at the main entrance.

It is seldom that the Poles and the Danzigers agree on any thing, and on this account the League of Nations has a High Commissioner,
General Haking, an English army officer, on the ground to settle disputes when possible. The Danzigers always contend the Poles want to annex and the Poles say the Danzig-ers continually are trying to give them the worst of it.

General Haking says relations between the two are really improving and it is in the long run the Poles will have it that is due them by inter-allied agreement, that the business and life of some 300,000 Danzigers will go on about as usual, and that Danzig will prosper in the future as a free city just as the framers of the Treaty of Versailles intended.

But the great change in the life of Danzig during the last year and a half has not been without resentment. Recently the Danzigers have been openly opposing the influx of the Poles on the contention that unless restrictions are enforced Polish workmen will soon force thousands of German laborers out of their positions.

Thousands of Poles have entered Danzig for business purposes or in connection with government affairs by terms of convention and agreements between Poland and the free city of Danzig under the new arrangements.

Danzig has its own postage stamp, but the German mark is circulated as the city's currency. In many connections where the Danzigers have the upper hand the name of the city is spelled "Danzig" which is German, but wherever the Poles have the say it is spelled "Gdansk" which is Polish.

An Army Marches On Its Stomach, Said Napoleon

The Great Corsican Knew That Success in Life Depends Upon Your Strength, Energy and Endurance

By HARRISON VAUGHN

When Napoleon led his victorious armies through Europe, his worst enemies were not the nations defeating themselves against his smashing onslaught, but he was confronted by the graver question of how to provide nourishing and strengthening food for his soldiers.

The Great Corsican realized long over a century ago, as has every commanding general since, that men's bodies must be perfectly nourished if they are to retain their natural strength, energy and vigor; in fact, that the very health of the human being is regulated almost entirely by the stomach. Under-feeding, insufficient nourishment, means loss of flesh, anaemia, lack of blood and subsequent weakness of the entire system.

What such people need to enable nature to bring back their strength and vigor, restore their lost weight, and put them in fighting trim, with rich, red blood coursing through their veins is Tanlac, the powerful reconstructive tonic and body builder.

A man or woman suffering from sour stomach, bad breath, biliousness, indigestion, or gas on stomach, is unfitted either for physical or mental labor. Sufferers from these ailments find life a burden; they look on the world through blue glasses, the joy and rewards of the vigorous, happy, normally healthy person is not theirs. Their trouble embitter them against the world, destroy their ambitions and make their lives dull and unhappy.

How foolish to continue in this condition when on every hand throughout the length and breadth of the land, people by the thousands are daily testifying to the remarkable powers of Tanlac in conquering stomach troubles. This powerful reconstructive medicine builds up the weak and the despondent; gives them new hope and happiness and a new lease on life.

Tanlac's name has been praised by hundreds of thousands. Testimonials from every corner of the United States and Canada have shown conclusively that even in cases where patients had almost given up all hope and where men and women had believed themselves doomed to a life of misery and suffering, Tanlac has overcome their troubles and brought back health, energy and happiness into their lives.

If you are not "fit as a fiddle" in the morning and don't feel better than when you went to bed; if your breath is offensive and you have that bad taste in your mouth, your body is not being nourished properly. What you need is Tanlac to restore you to normal so Nature can bring the flesh you've lost, put the bloom of health in your cheeks, the spring of energy in your step and the sparkle of happiness and contentment in your eyes.

Tanlac is sold in Lima by Hunter's drug stores, and by all leading druggists everywhere.

U. S. ON TIPTOE, HOOPER SAYS

Declares the Winter of Discontent Passed

HARD PULL IS NOW OVER

Speech of Rail Board Member Delivered at Boston

BOSTON — (Associated Press) Public sentiment events such a tremendous influence in America that the moral obligation of the railroads and their employees to avoid interruption of traffic will make the United States Railroad Labor Board's decisions effective. Ben W. Hooper, vice chairman of the board, declared today before the Boston Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Hooper, G. W. W. Hanger, public member, and W. L. McMenamin, labor member of the board, were guests of the chamber at a luncheon, where Mr. Hooper voiced the opinion that America had passed the winter of our discontent and was now standing on tiptoe, with the year of the remission on her lips, "let's go."

"The hard pull is over," the former governor of Tennessee said. "The farmer is the only man in the country who has really benefited. He alone did not have the paralytic of organization to retard his growth and break his fall. The next time this country takes an international joyride in the Zeppelin of war, the farmer will have his parachute along with him and will not be invited to step out on a storm cloud and slide down on a rainbow."

MORE JOBS IN SPRING

Mr. Hooper said he expected the number of railroad employees to be largely increased in the spring, that revenues would be increased by increased business, and that conditions would probably justify a reduction of rates "which is so essential to the restoration of normal business."

In return to normal, Hooper said, the railroads had accomplished the transition without any general strike or serious disturbance.

"As a rule, both managements and employees have cooperated cordially in carrying out the transportation act," Hooper said. "This has not been easy for either side. The railroads have had to contend with financial difficulties, and have been continually subjected to the temptation of taking the bit in their teeth and trying to get relief by independent action more quickly than the Labor Board considered it just and reasonable to give to them. Only a few carriers have succumbed to this temptation, and, in every instance, friction and discontent have resulted."

EMPLOYEES COMPLAINT

"The complaints of the employees have been that certain carriers, to avoid dealing with labor organizations, have disregarded the rights of the majority guaranteed by the

Transportation Act, that certain carriers have evaded the board's wage orders by having receivers in charge put into effect wage orders of the board by contracting or claiming to contract certain classes of their work to independent contractors.

Whatever may be the merit of these contentions of the employees, it is evident that they involve provocative situation. Under somewhat have exhibited commendable restraint.

On the other hand, practically all the carriers have promptly put into effect decisions of the Labor Board with which they were not in their accord, and have struggled patiently and courageously with discouraging conditions.

BANDITS TAKE LIQUOR

(The Associated Press) Three bandits, who posed as prohibition agents, robbed the home of Maurice L. Toothill, of liquor valued at $50,000 after landing and gagging three servants.

LIMA MAN FINDS WEATHER DELIGHTFUL IN FLORIDA; TELLS OF THE SOUTHLAND

Weather delightful. Men and women in 10 suits, 10 hats and white shoes. Flowers in bloom and the trees green. This idyllic picture is drawn by Henry P. Reel, Lima man who, with his wife, is sojourning in Tampa, Florida, waiting to his friend, here.

He relates the manner in which Tampa is taking care of the tourists who flock to the southland. "The city of Tampa," he says, "donated the State park to one thousand tourists from every state in the Union. They live in tents. They have organized a club and give free entertainment. Singers, dancers and saxophone players participate. Three brothers formerly with the Barnum & Bailey circus give a tumbling act."

"We spent Sunday in St. Petersburg. A very pretty city, but so many empty houses for rent and for sale. Every other building looks like a real estate office. It did not look good to me. The late storm hurt the place. Ranges are 15 cents a dozen; grapefruit, 20 cents per dozen; strawberries, 15 cents per quart and milk, 20 cents a quart. Groceries are about the same as in Lima."

Tear out this pie crust recipe.

THE CRUST (1000)

1 1/2 cups Gold Medal Flour

3/4 teaspoon salt

1 teaspoon baking powder

3/4 cup shortening

Ice Water

Sift flour, salt and baking powder together. Cut in shortening and allow just enough ice water to make stiff dough. Handle dough lightly and as little as possible. Bake in very hot oven at 425, lowering temperature as coloring appears. This amount makes one two crust pie or two one-crust pies.

For light flaky pie crusts use Gold Medal Flour

IT'S a real joy to bake a pie that will be eaten to the very last crumb. Half the goodness of such a pie lies in the crust.

Light, flaky crusts are not so difficult to make if you follow this recipe. It is important that you use Gold Medal Flour, being careful while mixing to keep all your materials and utensils cold.

Gold Medal Flour is invariably in purity, whiteness, flavor and strength. This means that every pie made will be uniform in quality.

You need not buy an expensive pastry flour. Gold Medal Flour will make pies, cakes and pastry as well as bread of ideal texture, flavor and color.

If you are not already one of those who use Gold Medal Flour, why not now? Certainly, you, too, will use Gold Medal Flour to make light, flaky pie crusts.

WOULD BAN HIRING OF WITNESSES

C. E. McBride Favors Court's Appointment of Experts

PRESENT PLAN IN DISREPUTE

Change Proposed at Meeting of Bar Association

AKRON — (Associated Press) — The appointment of expert witnesses by the court, rather than litigants hiring them, was urged by C. E. McBride, Mansfield, president of the Ohio State Bar Association, at the annual meeting of the association here today.

"Too often, as for example in the notorious Thaw trial, conflicting expert witnesses have been called by prosecution and defendant — much to the amusement and disgust of the public," Mr. McBride declared.

CAN BE BOUGHT

"The impression is gaining," he continued, "whether rightfully or wrongfully, that witnesses can be bought to present expert scientific testimony. Chemists hired by manufacturers have testified to the harmlessness of ingredients which disinterested scientists have regarded as injurious to the human constitution."

"Again, the use of experts, in many instances, when called by litigants, has resulted in long drawn out trials, without any great material assistance to the jury. How to remedy this situation becomes an important question in our legal procedure."

Fees, can be determined by the usual practice and standardized, he asserted.

"Thus an expert, a physician, a chemist, engineer, hand-writing expert, or the trained testimony of any kind that offers aid, may be paid a fixed sum, regardless of the wealth of the litigants, the amount to be collected as part of the costs of the trial," Mr. McBride said.

WOULD AID COURT

Where the plaintiff or defendant is without means to hire the best experts, those appointed, the speaker said, "will be enabled to serve without an undue tax on their resources. The expert loses a little time, but he has served the court, and the public, who make his prosperity possible."

When such methods of introducing expert testimony are adopted, Mr. McBride declared "We will have expert evidence rescued from the disrepute into which it now has fallen, and invested with its true rights as the expression of the particular branch of science for which it speaks."

BUSINESS IN SCHOOL WHERE WORK IS PLAY

Learning Stenography Becomes a Real Pleasure to John Mc

John Mc—Enjoys his Studies

Drawing in the City and Country School Has Added Interest

Making Change—Real Bills—in City and Country School

NEW YORK.—(Special.)—The most interesting people in New York are the four score little pupils who attend the City and Country School here.

And in many ways there's the most important people here, too.

Because they're being educated in an experimental school—a school that'll turn out old fads and theories about education upside down, if it's successful.

If the school can do what it plans to do, education will be modernized. The schoolboy of the future never will play hooky—there'll be no in-document, for school will be as interesting as play.

How does the school work?

Let's take the school life of John Mc—as an example.

John's 10 years old. He has brown hair and chubby cheeks and a frank, happy expression—he's just a normal, happy child.

The only reason his name isn't mentioned is so people won't point him out on the streets as a prodigy—which he isn't.

METHODS IN SCHOOL.

John's school is trying out methods that can be tested in Lima or any other place.

It does not give examinations.

Pupils do not have to do home work unless they want to.

They do not study anything that doesn't interest them.

Here's how the new-type school works:

John's in business—not make-believe but really.

He happens to be in the printing business with other members of a class called Group X, so called, because all members of the class are 10 years old.

Other classes take up other lines, as pottery or cooking.

John and the other boys and girls in his class conduct the printing plant themselves and do all the work it requires. They all have learned hand stamping and type-writing and soon will take up use of a real press.

Meanwhile they have studied lettering and learned the various styles—Roman, Gothic, Old English and so on.

That's what printing teaches them directly. But besides:

Group X advertises for business. It puts signs on the school bulletin boards soliciting orders.

LEARNS THRIFT, ARITHMETIC.

Orders come in from other classes for blank forms, post cards, notices, Christmas cards and programs.

This money is made and put into the treasury of Group X. And paper, type, ink and other supplies have to be bought. All this entails book-keeping.

So John learns thrift and arithmetic at the same time.

In science John studies the manufacture of inks—by making his own ink. Thus he learns something of the principles of physics and chemistry—learns them so he'll remember them.

In geography John studies the countries that supply material for the manufacture of ink. This gives him real interest in them.

In the carpentry shop John is helping to make equipment for the printing room. He's learning to draw to scale because he sees its practical use.

And he has to calculate the amount of wood he will need for the table he's making. He'll have to find out how much that wood will cost.

So John's learning a great deal without knowing it. It's almost as much fun as basketball.

JOHN LEARNS FAST.

One of the things psychology has taught us is that we not only learn much more quickly things we're interested in but that we retain these things longer.

And John's school works in accordance with that principle.

Processes in arithmetic are approached from a practical angle.

The class has two funds—one furnished by the school for the purchase of supplies, the other money the girls and boys themselves have earned.

Keeping these two accounts in order furnishes ample arithmetic drill.

And multiplication tables—John didn't take them up until he wanted to, until he saw he had to know them to save himself a lot of trouble.

Do you think John's school is practical?

TRACTOR PRICES CUT BY FORD

Reduction of $230 Announced by Auto Manufacturer

Henry Ford has slashed prices again—this time in favor of the farmer.

The "Newer Kwik" announced a reduction of $230 on the Fordson tractor Friday, making the new price $395. It has been $625.

Announcement of this cut was made in a wireless message broadcast from Detroit. It was received by the Thumerson agency, Lima, Ford distributors, Friday morning.

In connection with announcing the reduction on tractors, Ford took occasion to say that production costs of farm products are still too close to selling prices to allow a fair margin of profit.

Fordson tractors, at the peak, sold for approximately $1,000. Standard equipment such as plows, which goes with the tractor, has been reduced in proportion to the tractor. It is announced. Two-man plows which sold at $150 at the peak are priced now at $75.

The big reduction in tractors was declared Friday to be one of the biggest benefits to farmers in recent months.

OPERATORS STILL TO PAY FINE FOR LIQUOR SELLING

CLEVELAND.—Discovery of a man operating a whiskey still to make enough money to pay a fine for a similar offense, ordered a few hours earlier, was the climax today to three raids by police and the arrest of four alleged liquor law violators.

When Ignatius Westowski, arrested by agents of the Dry Maintenance League charged with violation of the prohibition law, was fined $150 by Mayor Zinner, of Fairview, he asked and was granted time to get the money. A few hours later, police say they found him operating two stills. The stills had been hidden in a hole in the ground and were overlooked by the dry agents. Three gallons of mash and two gallons of liquor were seized.

STATE OFFICIALS WILL ADDRESS LIMA SOCIETY

Attorney General John G. Price and Thomas J. Duffy, head of the state industrial commission, have been secured to address the Catholic Welfare Council of St. John's parish, President J. B. Dugan, announced Friday. They will come on separate occasions. The executive board will meet within a few days to fix a date for Price's appearance.

SERVICE CHARGES APPROVED, COLUMBUS—The Cleveland Chamber of Commerce, thru its board of directors, today went on record before the state public utilities commission as approving in principle the new service charges proposed by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. The directors did not, however, approve or disapprove the rates proposed, saying they had not investigated their reasonableness.

BIG SNOW IN SOUTH

East Also in the Grip of Severe Weather

WASHINGTON.—(Associated Press)—Snowfall to a depth which marked new records over periods of from three to twenty-years, were reported today from several southern states as an aftermath of the storm which has been central off the south Atlantic coast throughout the early part of the week. With the statement that storm warnings remain displayed between the Virginia capes and Cape Hatteras, the weather bureau today predicted further snowfall in sixteen states in the east and in the south down to the northern Alabama-Mississippi line.

Florida faces freezing temperatures if the weather clears in the northern section, the weather bureau said today, and snow probably will fall tonight and Saturday in southern New England, New York, the middle Atlantic states, North and South Carolina and in the eastern sections of Tennessee and Kentucky. If the lowest temperature reported in the bureau yesterday was at Northfield, Vt., where the thermometer stopped at 22 degrees below zero.

INSANITY CHARGE FILED

Insanity inquiry will be held Saturday at 8:30 a. m. for Delbert McGinnis, 34, Anglatz-ip McGinnis wife resides in Harrod. Warrant for the arrest was sworn to by John Owen.

CONGRESS CLEARS WAY FOR BONUS MEASURE

WASHINGTON.—Congress today today cleared the way for the bonus bill. Passage of the bill within two months was predicted, following a caucus of house Republicans, at which a resolution was unanimously passed, calling upon the ways and means committee to report out the bonus and keep it before the house until passed.

Both senate and house Republicans have waived aside the opposition of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon to the bill, and are disregarding his claim that the treasury cannot afford it.

The only delay now is in deciding how to raise the money.

RECOVERING FROM BURNS

CRODERSVILLE.—Mrs. Sam Strawsburg of St. Marys is under the care here of her father-in-law, Dr. Strawsburg, for burns she suffered when an oil lamp exploded in her St. Marys home. Her hands were seared. The house was destroyed.

TWO DIE IN FIRE

Brooklyn Woman and Baby Trapped by Flames

NEW YORK.—(United Press)—Mrs. Emma Rundel, 43, and George Obermeyer, a baby, were killed today when fire swept a four-story apartment house in Brooklyn. The victims were suffocated. It was reported a number of firemen were overcome.

Rescue of persons trapped on upper floors by the flames was effected by firemen on swaying extension ladders. Eight children were carried down a scaling ladder in the rear of the burning building. Traffic was tied up in the vicinity by lines of hose and a large crowd watched the rescue work.

The bodies of the dead woman and baby were brought down ladders from the fourth floor.

QUAKES ARE TO BE PREDICTED NOW

discovery Made by California Professor

SAME AS WEATHER FORECAST

Foretold by Movements of the Earth

BERKELEY, Cal. — (Associated Press) — Earthquakes can be predicted just as weather conditions are, the University of California here has announced, as a result of a recent discovery by Professor A. C. Lawson of the geology department that earth movements are antecedent to, as well as consequences, of earthquakes.

By making observations of the "creep" of the earth, or the gradual changes in latitudes, it can be told when earthquakes are expected, the university has announced. To study the earth's movements, a photographic latitude telescope is to be installed at Lick Observatory, which is conducted by the university on Mount Hamilton, near San Jose, Cal.

MOVEMENTS NOTED. Earth movements on a general scale preceded the big earthquakes of 1855 and 1906, it is believed by the university. The authorities also pointed out that on the occasion of the 1906 earthquake, earth in the Bonas region of California moved as much as twenty-four feet and that no movement was noticeable over a large area.

Professor Lawson's tabulations of meridian circle observations made at the Lick Observatory led to a suspicion, it was announced, that a change in the latitude of Mount Hamilton, of small but appreciable amount, had occurred at or about the time of a severe earthquake of August 3, 1903, which was local to the Mount Hamilton region.

"DANDERINE"

Grows Thick, Heavy Hair

35-cent Bottle Ends all Dandruff, Stops Hair Coming Out

Tea minutes after using Danderine you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will grow you most will be after a few weeks' use. When you see new hair, it is and grows at first — yes — really new hair — growing all over the scalp. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them, helping the hair grow long, strong and luxuriant. Application of Danderine makes a lifeless, colorless hair look naturally bright, lustrous and just as abundant.

OPEN LETTERS

To City Commissioners

FRIENDS: It is easy to appreciate the state of your feeling in a contemplation of the situation that has developed with the inflow of a flood of bills contracted by the previous city administration.

Presentation of old bills totaling nearly $8,000, after your budget for the first six months had been made up, with expenses pared to the core wherever possible, is certainly embarrassing. How you can meet the situation is one of the problems you'll have to dispose of, as a legacy from your predecessors.

LIMA BEANE.

To City Health Officer
To County Health Officer

DEAR DOCS: Assurance from you that no cases of influenza have been reported in either Lima or Allen-co, is the best sort of news. I trust that the situation in that respect will continue the same indefinitely.

LIMA BEANE.

To Mrs. Irene Mills Jackson

MY DEAR MADAME: Your expression of opinion concerning the best method of meeting the local situation, wherein relief measures are necessary to prevent acute suffering, is commendable.

It is easy to agree with you that extraordinary efforts should be made to provide employment for a larger number of persons, who are willing to work and keep themselves independent of the necessity of receiving charity.

There are very few people who accept charity from choice.

LIMA BEANE.

To Superintendent Collins

DEAR PROF: My young people tell me they greatly appreciate the additions that are being made to the libraries in my high schools.

Permit me to add my thanks to theirs. I am grateful for anything that is afforded for the betterment of opportunities for my school youth.

LIMA BEANE.

To Henry G. Wemmer

MY FRIEND: Your suggestion concerning the necessity of a transfer station or shelter of some kind in public square is timely. I heartily agree with you.

I have no quarrel with the former city administration in ordering the removal of the old combined hand stand and transfer station, but I had sincerely hoped and confidently expected that a new and more modern and adaptable structure would take its place.

Health is menaced when patrons of the city car lines are required to stand out in freezing blasts awaiting arrival of cars at the transfer point. I trust the criticism you have voiced will result in a movement being started that will insure correction of the situation as quickly as possible.

LIMA BEANE.

To City Engineer Miller

DEAR VAUGHN: Your assurance that the city's electric light plant is adequate to provide current for the boulevard lighting system and afford power for the operation of pumps at the water reservoirs at the same time, is encouraging.

I had feared that it couldn't be done. I thank you for the information and trust that extensions of the boulevard lighting system can be taken care of by the plant. You see, I expect to add to the new lighting arrangement, extending it in various districts.

To City Manager Bingham

DEAR CLARENCE: Emmett J. Jackson, judge of my criminal court, tells me he is in doubt about his right to accept an increase of salary voted to him by the commission.

On behalf of Emmett, I would suggest that you look into this a bit.

LIMA BEANE.

To C. C. Members

DEAR FRIENDS: The prompt manner in which you met the Defiance situation, the withdrawal of the chamber of commerce of that city from the fight for the retention of service on the Lima-Defiance division of the I. C. & E. Railway, shows you are on the job.

It is regrettable that the business men and others interested in Defiance should obtain a wrong view of the eternal fitness of things in the fight to help the citizens of the territory along the line between the two cities. I trust they will come to a realization of the fact that the larger cities owe a duty to smaller towns and the residents of country districts adjacent.

LIMA BEANE.

To Claude Zarman

DEAR CLAUDE: I understand you have a two-legged and feathered "Whatzis" at Fanot park zoo, presented by a packing house. Regret very much I haven't time to visit the zoo to give it the once-over.

The names you suggest to apply to the hybrid fowl are appropriate, but why not try "gobble-crow"?

LIMA BEANE.

To Street Car Motormen

DEAR BOYS: As I understand it, it is wrong for you to so operate street cars that two pass at a street intersection.

I have noticed that some of you are doing that very thing, persistently. It is dangerous to pedestrians. You had me badly frightened at Main and High-sts yesterday, when I came near being run down as a result of that sort of violation of a rule.

Please don't do it again. I shudder to contemplate the results that might ensue should an aged person or a little child be thrown under a car.

HEALTH TALKS

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well

WHAT YOUR TONGUE SHOWS

The coated tongue usually indicates gastric disorders. It is noticed in acute diseases, either dry or moist, and is accompanied by prostration.

Disturbances of the digestive organs are readily observed by watching the condition of the tongue.

If it is dry, there is gastro-intestinal disturbance; if covered with a thin transparent coating, improper digestion is usually at the bottom of the trouble.

A heavy coating at the base of the tongue is indicative, as a rule, of an overloaded stomach, which should be relieved by an emetic.

A dry brown tongue is found in cases of fever, high temperature and much prostration. When the coated tongue becomes furred or shaggy in appearance, an advanced stage of disease is suggested.

A lack of alkaline elements in the blood will often show up in the form of a broad and anemic tongue. The presence of an acid is shown by a red and dry tongue.

In long continued fevers, or in prostration, there is a marked diminution of secretions—and this includes the salivary glands—thus preventing the normal moisture of the tongue.

The shape is also often indicative of conditions of the body. An irritation of the blood supply of the stomach and bowels may be observed in cases showing an elongated and somewhat pointed tongue. In impaired action of the digestive tract, the tongue may be broad and thick, showing evidences of atony.

In chronic diseases, when a fissured tongue is present, it may show an inflammatory condition of the kidney. In acute diseases, a fissured tongue may be indicative of kidney disease or nerve center irritation.

SEA LONGING

Put me on a ship, with the flood-tide flowing,
Put me on a ship with the great wind blowing.
For I am weary of the raucous city,
Of the close-packed houses and the pavements gritty.

Put me on a ship for a far port leaving,
Let me feel the lift of the ground-swell heaving,
Know the roll and pitch as the high bow lunges,
Thrusting through the waves where the porpoise plunges.

Put me on a ship with her masthead swaying,
Spray on her decks and her taut stays singing,
Singing with a tune of the deep sea's making,
Singing with a voice there is no mistaking.

Put me on a ship with her route uncharted,
Tramping all the seas back to where she started,
I am sick of crowds, and of plots and schemes,
Oh, the white wake and the white gulls screaming!

I have heard the voice there is no denying,
Heard the sea call in each soft breeze sighing,
Heard it whisper low, "Come, oh salt sea rover!"
Put me on a ship, bound the wide world over!

Getting Rid of a Stubborn Cough Is Child's Play Now

Make the Medicine Yourself at Home
It's Cheap—but You Can't Beat It.
If you want to take care of that bad, hacking cough and do it in a few hours, better get one ounce of Farming (double strength) and mix a half pint at home.

You can do this in two minutes by adding a little sugar and enough water to fill a half pint bottle.

You'll travel the world over before you get a medicine that will act so surely and quickly on the mucous membrane of the nose and throat. It kills the inflammation, the tickling, the throat stops with the first spoonful, the heart breathing goes and clear membranes, free from irritation and mucus follows.

For Catarrhal conditions such as mucous droppings, closed nostrils and watery eyes, it won't disappoint—ask for Farming (double strength). Speak plainly so that the druggist will know exactly what you want—Adv.

GENOA CONFAB IS SEEN AS FAILURE

Withdrawal of United States Spells Its Doom

CONFERENCE BRITISH PLAN

Clash Between England and France Impends

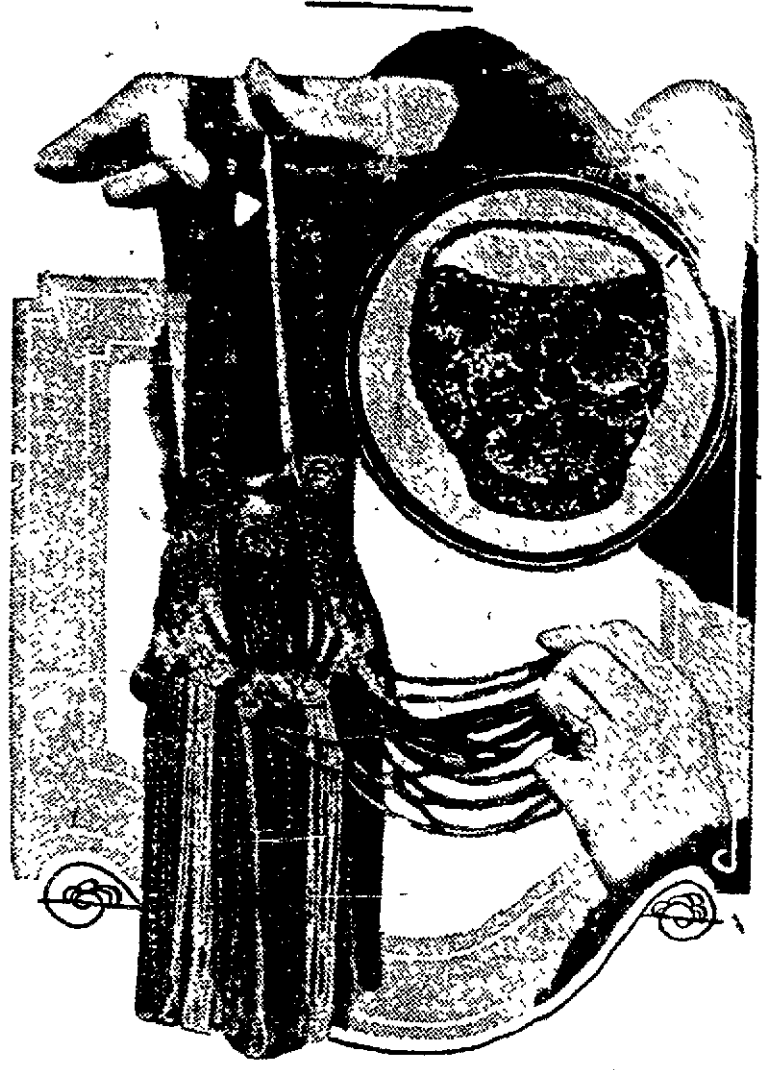

(BY FRANK H. SIMONDS)
WASHINGTON—Decision of the United States not to go to Genoa not only carries with it a death sentence for the Genoa Conference, but it similarly dooms to disappointment all European expectations that the bridge by which the United States would return to Europe. One has only to recall the recent utterances made by Lloyd George to his hopes of American participation in the Genoa Conference to perceive how far-reaching will be the effect of the American refusal.

The Genoa Conference was decided upon at Cannes in the hours immediately preceding M. Briand's return to Paris and his sensational resignation. The suggestion of the conference was British. The purpose of the conference was to bring Europe together, with Russia and Germany included for the first time since the war, and to undertake measures of the economic restoration of Europe in accordance with British ideas. Briand gave his consent to the conference and this consent was one of the main causes of the fall.

When Poincare took office he found himself committed to the Genoa Conference by the Cannes agreement of Briand. He could not directly repudiate the engagement. France could not afford to absent herself from the Conference if the United States were to be present. French policy, under Poincare, was however bound to seek at every turn to render the result of the Conference nil, because it was a British proposal. But with the United States present a French defeat was almost inevitable.

Accordingly, the manifest hope of British diplomacy in Washington during the present Conference has been that out of the association of the two Anglo-Saxon nations here would grow some kind of a mutual cooperation, which, at the appropriate moment, might be transferred not only to the Pacific in the form of the Four Power Treaty, but to Europe in the form of some kind of a

IT'S A SEASON OF ACCESSORIES

NEW YORK — If one could judge by merely walking down the Avenue, glimpsing smartly-clad women and peering into shop windows, one might say that it is to be a season of accessories.

Designers have let their fancy run riot with beads and colors in the fashioning of bags and cases for day and evening use.

Queer, gay little Chinamen strut about in queer, gay little landscapes on Milady's beaded purses. A single beaded flower, a rose, a pansy in natural coloring conceals a tiny pocket at the back and becomes a vanity case.

Some of the latter are lined with delicately colored silks, and are so beaded that one could be found to match almost any evening gown.

without relation to each other. Europe, on the contrary, cannot separate Atlantic from Pacific questions and has seen the Washington Conference always in connection with the European situation. It has seen that the main purpose of British diplomacy in Washington was to arrive at something like an alliance between the United States and Great Britain which would so strengthen the British hand in Europe and in dealing with the French as to lead to French surrender and the application of the British economic ideas to the Continent of Europe.

France means to demand from Great Britain a long-time alliance, with a definite assurance of a specified number of troops made available at the moment of any German aggression, and an assurance of support in exacting ultimately, if not immediately, the full amount of the French bill. Moreover, France sees the future of Poland of utmost importance to herself and she seeks British endorsement of Poland's future. Therefore, she sets her face against Lloyd George's consistent policy in the matter of Poland.

With America definitely out of Europe, at least, apparently France escapes from the worst consequences of her diplomatic defeat at Washington and Poincare's hands are left free to carry out the policy which he was chosen to advocate. The clash between Great Britain and France must now be severer than ever before and European affairs, already tangled in the extreme, enter a new and even more critical stage. With only Italy to support her on the Continent of Europe the British can not control the situation against determined French resistance, and France, relieved from the fear of American intervention, is likely to insist upon her right to maintain her own European policy against all British protests or persuasion.

Genoa was to have been the final stage in the peace adjustment begun at Paris in 1919. It was to have been an effort to attain economic adjustments following political arrangements. Even more, it was the British expectation that at Genoa many political arrangements could be abolished and nationalistic ideals would be subordinated to economic necessities. Had we gone to Genoa we should certainly have taken the British side and with our aid British success would have been probable and perhaps certain. But as it stands and as long as we remain out of Europe there seems every prospect of an Anglo-French deadlock and a perpetuation of that paralysis which has resulted from the war and has continued for nearly three years.

EVER HEAR OF BROTHER BILL? HE'S A FORD

But Fame In His Case Keeps Itself Well Within the Confines of Good Old Dearborn

By NORRIS QUINN

DEARBORN, Mich.—(Special)—Did you ever hear of William Ford?

No, you never did. For everywhere William's been overshadowed by the greatness of his brother, Henry Ford, multi-millionaire auto manufacturer.

WILLIAM FORD

Everywhere—except in William's home town, Dearborn.

Here William—or "Bill"—or "Uncle Bill," as they all call him—is the biggest man in town and the best liked.

Not because he's a big business man or an industrial promoter or a philanthropist, like his brother.

But because he's the best village president and chief of police Dearborn ever had!

Because he's a good mixer and a member of almost every lodge in town.

Because he knows every one of the 2000 people in Dearborn and calls everybody by his first name and never gets puffed up over his brother's riches.

"Brother Bill" sells tractor accessories and appliances in his little red brick shop on a side street here.

And he lives with his wife and three children in a modest but comfortable red brick house on another side street.

"Bill" doesn't envy his brother, Henry, the publicity he gets.

"I try to keep my name out of the papers—and my face, too," Bill says.

"Yes, business is mighty good. You see, I've got a belt of territory including part of Michigan, part of Indiana and part of Ohio for these appliances.

"They're things to use with a tractor—plows, hay presses and things like that—19 in all.

"No, Henry doesn't make them. I'm not connected in business with my brother at all.

"I was village president one term—two years. I didn't run for re-election—mixing in politics takes a man's mind off his business, even if the village hall is just across the road.

"I like to do a good day's work and then go home and spend the evening with the wife and kids or go to lodge and mix with my Dearborn friends.

"I enjoy life just as much as my brother with all his money.

"Do I remember Henry as a boy? Well, I ought to; I was brought up with him on a farm four miles from here. I'm the youngest in the family."

When "Brother Bill" became village president and police chief—both of them are one man here—Dearborn was rated as a tough town.

It was a gathering place for Detroit crooks. And the only function the law exercised was fleecing autoists on the Detroit-Ann Arbor highway.

"This won't do," said "Bill."

He organized a small-town police department every suburb is trying to copy. And Dearborn passed thru the "crime wave" without a holdup.

Then President Ford put in operation a modern traffic system with safety zones that gained the written approval of several automobile clubs.

Then he started an improved system of volunteer fire protection that brought fire losses away down and lessened insurance rates.

Folk here say "Bill" has considerable influence over his multi-millionaire brother. Henry calls at the William Ford home at least once a week.

"Bill's" inventive ability runs along lines different from Henry's—"Bill" dabbles in horticulture as a side line.

He's developing what he calls multi-headed wheat. That's wheat with several heads on one stalk instead of only one.

Here's what "Bill's" neighbors think of him:

"He's got a heart like a gold mine. If you're in trouble Bill will give you anything he's got. He's a special favorite with the town kids. You always see him digging down to give them a nickel."—William G. Kromberg, editor of the local weekly.

HYDRANT LACK IS A HANDICAP

Unoccupied House Burns While Firemen Are Delayed

Firemen were forced to lay two hose lines a total of 1200 feet Thursday at 9:45 p. m. in an effort to control a fire which destroyed a vacant house at 1107 E. Kibby-st., adjacent to the D. T. & I. railroad. It was almost completely destroyed.

It was another case where the fire department was handicapped by the lack of hydrants in the vicinity. Assistant Fire Chief Eyster said. Two lines were laid from the hydrant intersection of Kibby with Sugar-st. and Mandeville-av. The loss would be less had the hydrants been nearer, Eyster asserted.

Switching operations on the D. T. & I. were held up because one of the lines was laid across the tracks.

Origin of the fire is unknown. Eyster states, however, it may have started from a fire built on the vacant house by tramps. The property is owned by Ed Milbaugh.

THREE-YEAR-OLD WHISKY MADE IN THREE MINUTES

BUFFALO—How to make "three-year-old whisky" in three minutes has been demonstrated at a meeting of the city council by Dr. Francis E. Fromm, health commissioner. He mixed alcohol extracted from potatoes with fusel oil and burnt sugar and produced a whisky which he said was commonly related for $9 a quart.

The demonstration was given yesterday at a hearing on an ordinance which would impose a yearly tax of $25 and require a bond on all places for the sale of soft drinks.

ARE YOU THIN AND RUN DOWN?

A Nutritional Expert at One of Our Leading Medical Colleges Tells How to Overcome Such Conditions

This is the first time in history that a nutritive food tonic, backed by full approval of world-recognized scientific authority, has been offered to the public. It is called SUSTO.

It is transforming thousands of thin, run-down anemic men and women, and under-nourished delicate children into strong, healthy, energetic individuals, all without the aid of medicine.

After exhaustive tests with SUSTO extending over many months by a Nutrition Board at one of our leading Medical Colleges, he says that he proved SUSTO to be valuable for weak, run-down conditions, anemia, lack of strength, loss of weight, and especially valuable during convalescence, and infants, children and grown persons quickly put on weight by its use.

This means that any person may step into our drug store, ask for SUSTO, and for a small sum secure a tonic food that bears the stamp of approval of a great nutritional expert, to promote strength, health and energy.

By the use of SUSTO you will steadily gain in health and strength, at better sleep, better appetite, and enjoy the vitality which comes from a properly-nourished body. Thompson's 3 Drug Stores.—Adv.

28 ITALIANS WILL BE IN CONCLAVE

Majority of 2 in Meeting to Elect Pope

VOTING BEGINS FEBRUARY 2

Pastoral Cardinal Will Be Elected, Rome Says

ROME — (United Press) — The conclave which will elect a successor to Pope Benedict XV will be Italian, by a small majority, according to indications today. Twenty-eight foreign cardinals and 28 Italian cardinals are expected to be ready for the election February 2.

The 54 cardinals expected to be present when the conclave opens are divided into three groups. The first group, the Italian cardinals, will be elected on Thursday. The second group, the foreign cardinals, will be elected on Friday. The third group, the cardinals of the Holy See, will be elected on Saturday.

Predictions as to Benedict's successor have been made by the Italian press. Ratti, Merry Del Val, and other cardinals are mentioned.

Each cardinal will take with him a small altar cloth, a book of hours, and a small statue of the Virgin Mary. The cardinals will be elected in a secret ballot. The election will be held in the Sistine Chapel.

FORECASTS IN ROME — Well-informed persons believe that the next pope will be an Italian. The Italian cardinals are expected to elect a member of their own group.

ONE — That the next pope will be an Italian. TWO — That he will be picked out among the pastoral cardinals.

YESTERDAY'S ANSWER: NUT-N + BAT - BT + H = UTAH.

as probable popes—not only because they are eliminated by the rule of "religion" and "political" succession but because all the outstanding curia members are too old to assume the burdens of the pontificate.

Cardinal Gasparri is 70. And he is exhausted from the tremendous labor of codifying the canon law, which was one of his duties as papal secretary of state.

Cardinal Vannutelli, an outstanding cardinal, is 84. Cardinal di Belmonte is 70. Cardinal Vico is 74.

So the possibilities narrow down to the 10 Italian pastoral cardinals who head various dioceses.

Cardinal Ratti of Milan is one of these. He is extremely popular in Italy. He is 64 and has been a cardinal 14 years. He is a strong Italian patriot and stands for reconciliation between the Vatican and the Italian government.

Another leading possibility is Cardinal Ratti of Milan. Ratti has been a cardinal only one year, but Pope Benedict had been a cardinal only four months when elevated.

Ratti started his career as curia in the libraries of Milan and the Vatican. Then he became apostolic visitor to Poland while Poland was struggling for freedom.

When Poland was freed he became papal nuncio. He also acted as ecclesiastical diplomat in Finland and Russia, making an enviable record of accomplishment.

Cardinal La Fontaine of Venice also is considered. La Fontaine is 63 and was made a cardinal in 1916. He is a member of the Sacred College.

But every one in Vatican circles has two points: ONE—That the next pope will be an Italian. TWO—That he will be picked out among the pastoral cardinals.

CARTER REFUTES STORY TOLD BY CORSETIERRE CONCERNING LIMA WOMEN

Lima women, concerning whom a local corsetierre made various plain statements a few days ago, have a champion. He is none other than George R. Carter of Carter & Carroll.

Carter believes statements that Lima women are growing lazy and fatter because of little exercise and the eating of rich food, are absurd.

"It is only natural," he says, "that women of today have easier lives than their mothers and grandmothers. Inventions have made this possible. The same is true of men. Their work, too, has been made lighter."

Carter believes that women of today are getting sufficient exercise in other beautiful ways to more than balance the lightening of household duties brought about by inventions.

"Our corsetierre has been fitting corsets for Lima women in our store for 15 years," Carter said. "I am certain she has not found the conditions one fitter says she has discovered. I consider it an injustice to them to say that women are becoming lazy and growing fatter through self-indulgence," he concluded.

FEW "TOURISTS" APPLY FOR LODGING IN PRISON. DESPITE FRIGID BLASTS

Surprisingly few hoboes are picked up in Lima or apply at the police station for a night's lodging, despite severe weather, the blotter at headquarters indicates.

A number of local men are picked up almost every night, but the blighters of the road from other localities are conspicuous for their absence, police say.

They have hit the trail to the Southland for their annual winter sojourn, it is believed, and will return with spring, among the first harbingers of the season.

Pocket contents of the few who registered at the police hotel shows their financial embarrassment. The total amount rung up by the last seven who bided a wee bit at the house was not enough to secure a place of beans apiece, police state.

In lieu of money, they have crammed the pockets of their jeans with odds and ends. The police inventory discloses an interesting accumulation of keys, knives, string, luck pieces and a lot of other stuff set down under the general term of junk.

DRIED BEANS

If you would use dried beans as a meat substitute remember two details: "All beans require long, slow cooking and the addition of fat. The long cooking softens the skins and adds the element lacking in beans. There are at least eight varieties of dried beans to choose from—white, speckled and colored. The colored beans are richer in flavor than white beans.

BAKED BEANS

Three cups navy beans, 1-2 pound salt pork, 1 dessertspoon salt, 2 dessertspoons molasses, 2 dessertspoons sugar, 1 teaspoon mustard, 1 cup boiling water, 1 small onion.

Pick over beans. Wash thru several waters. Let stand over night in 3 quarts of cold water. If the beans are this year's crop two hours will be long enough for them to stand in water.

Drain. Put in a kettle with fresh cold water to a little more than cover. Add 1-4 teaspoon soda. Bring to the boiling point and let boil five minutes. Put onion in the bottom of the bean pot. Scald rind of pork and scrape well. Cut off a thin slice and put in bean pot.

Cut thru the rind of the remaining piece in half-inch squares. Pour half the beans in the bean pot. Add the salt pork and the rest of the beans. Pour over the seasonings mixed with the boiling water. Add enough more boiling water to cover beans. Cover bean pot and bake in a slow oven four hours. Add more water as necessary during the first four hours of baking. Then pull the pork to the top of the beans to brown. Let the liquor cook away about half.

BEAN STEW

One cup dried lima beans, 1 cup sliced raw potatoes, 1 cup diced carrots, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 cups tomato juice, 2 tablespoons catsup, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper.

Wash beans and soak over night in cold water. Drain and put in kettle with cold water to more than cover. Simmer for an hour after the beans begin to boil. Add potatoes and carrots and salt and pepper.

Cook an hour longer, adding water to prevent burning. Let the water cook away as the vegetables become tender. Add butter, tomato juice and catsup and simmer half an hour. Serve with soda crackers.

BEAN PATTIES

One-half cup black beans, 1 tablespoon salt, 2 tablespoons bacon fat, 1-2 cup cracker crumbs, 3 tablespoons chili sauce, 1 egg.

Wash beans and soak over night. Roll until tender in salted water to cover. Drain and rub thru a sieve.

Add chili sauce, bacon fat, and crumbs to bean pulp. Mix well and stir in egg slightly beaten. If moist enough to shape well add a little milk. Shape in a roll and let become firm.

Cut in half-inch slices, roll in flour and fry to a golden brown first on one side and then on the other in hot drippings in a frying pan.

DURANT—It's coming!

LETTERS TO LOVERS

—BY WINONA WILCOX

(BY WINONA WILCOX)

Here's a real problem put by a wife and not involving another woman or man, thank goodness!

"We were deeply in love when we married but it turns out that my husband is like an overgrown boy, who gets out of every responsibility to others, yet claims all the liberties of a man.

"Our twin sons are in high school and I hope to raise them to be Christian gentlemen.

"My husband flaunts all the things I hold sacred, we do not agree upon any issues of the day. We cannot argue any question peacefully and so all important topics are tabooed for they cause discord before the boys.

"My husband's sole interest is in livestock and racing. As a business woman, I am perfectly competent to provide for myself and my sons. I own valuable real estate, and other property accumulated by my own effort.

"I loan my husband money which he uses up in carrying on his hobby. He spends it for expensive help, while he loafs in clubs with rich men. Meanwhile I work. The family bills for food, clothes, furniture, upkeep and luxuries are mine to pay and always have been.

"I suppose he does not waste money in riotous living, nevertheless he deceives me constantly and says he has to lie to live with me!

"If that is true, I think we had better live apart. Indeed, at present, I am a widow except that my husband eats and sleeps in our comfortable home.

"Lately it entered my mind that I am holding down the job while he is bound no more financially or in any other way than he was before he married me.

"Am I not justified in making a separate home for our sons?"

According to a futurist theory of marriage, a man and woman, fifty years hence, will not feel bound to stay together after the children are educated and self-supporting.

The germ of this idea has had its origin in just such cases as the one above quoted. For the present, there's this to be said against it: Children who are raised by one parent acquire unfortunate, one-sided complexes. For the lack of a father, the son grows effeminate.

Altho financially independent, is this mother justified in separating father and sons?

It has happened that a grouchy or lazy father improved vastly as his sons grew up. He did not care to let his sons perceive that he fell short of the conventional diagram for a gentleman, proving once more that some persons can be what they pretend to be when pressure is applied to their conduct.

Then why should I spend a lot of money—Polly's voice still caught a bit breathlessly, "on really nice things when you don't even know they're nice?"

"Because, my precious child, women dress for other women, not for their husbands. If the wrap girl at the Cafe de Paris turns Nile green when she sees it, it's a humdinger. They tell me she knows more about swell rags than anyone in Gay Paree."

From the outside, the Cafe de Paris didn't look so wonderful. But within—it was like stepping into a brightly-lighted golden jewel-casket. Thick gold brocade curtains covered the windows. A deep yellow carpet was under foot. The tables glittered softly with glass and silver, damask, and golden daffodils, reflected in long, gilt mirrors.

The girl took Polly's cloak, swept her with an all-embracing glance—and bowed deferentially.

"Did you pipe that look?" whispered Paul as they were led to their table. "By gosh, you've passed the test A-One and then some. It was the sash that fooled her!"

After a time, Polly became conscious of the glances of a man at a table halfway across the room. He was handsome and well dressed and obviously not intending rudeness, looked hastily away when Polly's gaze strayed toward him. A vase of flowers hid from her the face of the woman he was with. But presently Polly saw the very annoyed countenance of Violet Rand peer round the blossoms.

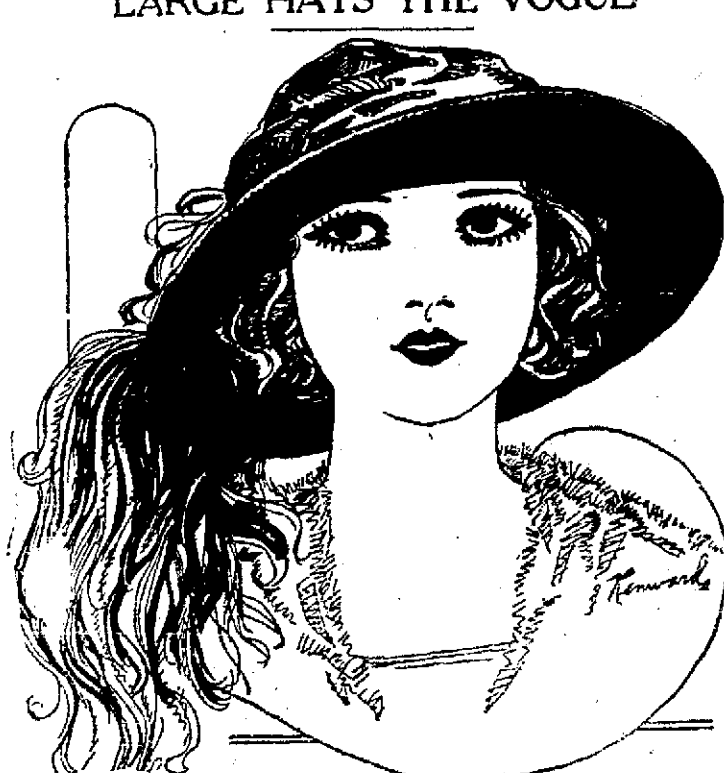

As plainly as the she had spoken, Violet's eyes said: "Well—if it isn't that little Mrs. Dawson my man is staring at with such interest! And in a frock that would do credit to me! Where did she get it? It looks

NEW YORK — Hats are large! There's no denying that Millady's tendency, when she dresses for afternoon or evening, is toward the large hat. This Ponch design, which trails a handsome feather at the side, is of lightweight silk velvet suited especially for between-season wear. The wide brim droops becomingly over the face. The crown is large and soft.

POLLY AND PAUL --AND PARIS

By Zoe Beckley

THE CAFE DE PARIS

With the dressingroom door locked, Polly huddled in a wretched heap on the floor of "a big wardrobe and cried till her handkerchief was used up. Then she wiped her eyes and nose on the frill of a petticoat that hung conveniently near—and cried some more.

Paul had rapped on the door in vain; had called to her, had entreated her to forgive him, to let him explain about the dress, to put it on and let him see how lovely it really was.

Polly wept herself tired and, woman-like, felt better. She sat up, brushed back her hair, emerged from the clothespress and wondered if Paul, disgusted, had gone out; it was so still. Then she heard a small scratching at the door, and a life-like "Meow-meow—"

She couldn't help laughing, and the laugh relaxed and restored her. She opened the door and the "cat" folded her in a warm hug.

"I was a pig and a brute and a silly ass," said Paul contritely. "I'm a fool about dresses, Mousie. I only know you would look like a peach if you wore jade-pink hosiery with piped fringe and purple tabourets down the sides."

"Then why should I spend a lot of money—Polly's voice still caught a bit breathlessly, "on really nice things when you don't even know they're nice?"

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart: I AM a girl 20 years old and am engaged. My fiance is a splendid young man and everyone speaks well of him. I love him deeply and feel that he cares greatly for me. However, he did something one time which has made me lose a little faith in him. He was to have had an engagement with me over night. A short time before it was time for him to arrive he called me by phone and said it would be impossible for him to come, as he had to work. I believed him and, of course, told him it would be alright. Later I heard that he and some other men were out with several girls they had just met. I nearly killed me. I can't get over it. My fiance confessed to me that he was out with these girls. He said it was the first time he had ever done anything like that since he had been going with me. He begged for forgiveness, saying he would never think of doing such a thing again. Of course, I forgave him and told him I trusted him, but somehow I cannot get over it. I do not seem to have the same confidence in him. What can I do to get over this feeling?

UNHAPPY YOUR fiance did wrong in offering attentions to any girl other than you and he was much at fault in deceiving you. However, now that you have agreed to forgive him, you should drop the matter and try to renew your faith in him. It is very natural that this little incident should lessen your faith in him for the time, but it is scarcely sufficient to condemn him indefinitely.

Unless you restore your faith in your fiance you cannot hope for real happiness together. If you marry, you may feel assured that he loves you or he would not ask you to marry him. Prove that you care for him by giving him all of your loyalty and faith. The fact that you believe in him will do much to keep him true to you.

Dear Miss Smart: (1) When will Russian boots come in style? (2) I am a girl 14 years old. Is it alright for me to go out twice a week—say Fridays and Sundays? (3) How can one prove true friendship of a girl? I have a girl friend whom I think the world of. She tells me the least thing she does and she never goes without my company unless I am with her. Do you think this is any proof? (4) What is a good name for a girl who goes in company a good deal and wants to show by her name what she is? I know of one such as this and she often asks me. It is too deep for me. DEEP

(1) The Russian Boots are not in stock in any store that I know of at the present time. Several merchants are trying to get them now. (2) I think so. (3) Wonderful proof. Really she seems to treat you almost like a mother. (4) I must confess that this question is much too deep for me. I have no idea what one would term such a girl.

Stone Walls Do Not a Prison Make

Maurice Tournier's great story with House Peters in the leading role

"THE GREAT REDEEMER"

This Gripping Masterpiece Is Coming to the Lyric Theater Sunday Along with Harold Lloyd in "Bumping Into Broadway"

Two top-notchers at the Lyric theater starting Sunday. As usual two big attractions for the price of one. House Peters and even those least familiar with pictures know him, will be there in "The Great Redeemer," acknowledged by all critics as being one of the de luxe productions of the age. It is adapted from that great masterpiece of Maurice Tournier's which is replete with startling climaxes and in which, as its greatest scene a murderer enroute to the gallows, is redeemed through seeing a painting of the Crucifixion on the wall of a fellow-convict's cell.

It's some story, with vivid, exhilarating action and a touch of genuine pathos throughout. You'll cry a little maybe when you see it, but that won't hurt you.

And in addition there will be the infinitely Harold Lloyd in "Bumping Into Broadway," which was his original $100,000.00 comedy and without question one of the most laughable he ever in his whole career produced. Never any use to talk about Harold Lloyd. This boy is past all talking about in his super ability to make you laugh. He is always a scream. In this picture he is hysterics personified. Don't let your memory play you any tricks in connection with next Sunday. Remember, the big double attraction at the Lyric and be sure to go.

"Those Who Dance Must Pay The Fiddler"

There's a settlement in profit or loss, for nearly every indulgence.

Sometimes the pay-day is long deferred, and in that case the settlement may bear compound interest.

Often a payment in ill health is required for the dance had with tea or coffee during earlier years. Sometimes the collection comes in sleeplessness, sometimes in headaches, sometimes in high blood pressure, or in nervous indigestion—sometimes in all these penalties.

Nerves won't always stand the whipping of tea and coffee's drug, caffeine.

If you've been dancing to tea or coffee's fiddling, why keep on till payment time comes? If you're beginning to pay, now, why not cancel the contract?

There's an easy and pleasant way to avoid tea and coffee's penalties, as thousands have found who have changed to Postum. It is a delight with any meal—rich, comforting and satisfying—and it never harms. Even the little children can have a breakfast cup of Postum, with no fear for what may happen to sensitive nerves.

Instead of paying penalties for your meal-time drink, let it pay benefits to you, by giving natural health a full chance—and begin the new arrangement today. Any grocer will sell you, or any good restaurant will serve you Postum.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

The STEP on the STAIRS

by ISABEL OSTRANDER

"We are not criminal lawyers," expected that "old scandal woman" be raked up again.

Barry laughed with boyish frankness.

"I won't try to lie to you, sir!" he exclaimed. "We have reason to believe that the woman who was killed was some connection of the unfortunate Mrs. Matthew Verner. We know that the latter was a comparative stranger here, and we thought you might be able to tell us where she came from and who her people were."

A faint flush had come into the withered cheeks and Barry could see that he was shaking excitedly.

"Irene Verner," Barry prompted quietly. "Her maiden name was Irene Barrows and she was visiting a school friend here—"

"Ada Johnson," the quavering voice supplemented. "I suppose she took pity on Irene. Irene came from Wheatfield, and I guess her guardian sent her to finishing school as a last resort to get her in with rich folks and marry her off. Anyway, Ada Johnson brought the girl home and the trouble started."

"What you know anything about this guardian of Irene Barrows, sir?" the detective asked. "Did you ever meet him?"

"Yes, he came on for the wedding but somehow I can't recall his name. I remember the man himself, though, because I've met so many of his type; hard-fisted, hypocritical president of a small country bank. He died soon after. I understand."

"Please, Mr. Barry, it is time for your drops now." A nurse approached the invalid. "If the gentleman will excuse you, I'm sure you have liked enough."

The invalid took the medicine and roused himself to peer at the small car chugging up the driveway.

"Who's coming?"

"It is Mrs. Tyrrell," the nurse replied and turned to meet the stout lady who had descended from the runabout and was crossing the lawn toward them.

"Ada on one of her duty calls!" the old man grumbled. "She may be able to give you more information than I, however, for she was the girl I told you about who brought Irene to Cleveland in the first place."

Barry rose and the old man cackled as he extended his hand.

"My dear Ada!" he responded. "You were never more welcome than at this moment!"

CHAPTER XI

"Let me present Mr. Barry, Mrs. Tyrrell," said the invalid. Mr. Barry thinks he knows a relative of a dead friend of ours. I was just telling him that you were the one person who could give him the information he desires."

"This has been a most fortunate meeting if you can spare me a few minutes," Mrs. Tyrrell smiled Barry.

"For I must catch the next train back to New York."

"I was about to suggest that I give you a lift in my car," she beamed upon him. "We must not tire my dear old friend here and I confess that my curiosity has been aroused. Goodbye, Mr. Scully."

Barry escorted the lady to her runabout.

"Who was that old friend of mine whose relative you know?" asked Mrs. Tyrrell.

"I believe when you knew her first that her name was Irene Barrows, afterwards Mrs. Matt Verner," Barry replied steadily.

All the color vanished from his companion's face and the little car swerved as she gripped the wheel.

"Irene!" she gasped. "Oh, don't remind me of her! Do you know the whole wretched story, Mr. Barry?"

"All except the details of your friendship with her and what you may know of her family."

"When she was seventeen and I a year older I brought her home."

"For what purpose had she come to you?" Barry looked away as he spoke.

"That was the strangest part of it!" his companion exclaimed. "I supposed, naturally, that she had come to talk of Irene, but instead she asked 'numerable questions' about the Griswold woman. She didn't give any first name, simply announced herself as 'Miss Barrows!'"

"Had you ever heard your first mention a younger sister?" Barry's tone had quickened.

"Yes, at school. She had mentioned her by some silly nickname. I gathered that they came of pretty good old stock but had become reduced in circumstances."

"I know she wanted her little sister present at her marriage to Matt, but that guardian of hers put his foot down and said he wasn't going to have the child's head filled with notions that would make her discontented; that she would have to stay where she was till she was eighteen."

"Irene went to see her regularly after her marriage, but never said anything about those trips nor brought her to Cleveland."

"Did Irene's sister tell you nothing about herself or her plans for the future?"

"I believe she did mention something about being on her way East."

"What sort of questions did she ask you about Miriam Griswold?" Barry urged. "Think, Mrs. Tyrrell; this may be more important than you know!"

She glanced quickly at him in amazement.

Is there a real value in knowing what the opposing pitcher is about to do?

Is it easier to hit a sharp-breaking curve, if you know the opposing pitcher is about to cut loose with the "hook?"

Is it softer to pick on the fast one, if you know the pitcher is about to slip one right through the heart of the plate?

I have always believed it was of considerable advantage for the batter to know what was coming. I make that statement assuming there will be no mistake about the delivery.

The element of danger always exists when a team is trying to get the signals. If the opposition, which of course make it possible for them to do out the style of pitching they must solve.

Managers and players differ as to the advisability of trying to get the batter's eye. The opposition, Connie Mack is a firm believer in training out the opposing pitcher if possible. He feels that it gives a batter a distinct advantage.

Miller Huggins of the New York Americans has just the opposite theory. Huggins would stand for the "getting the signals" system. He works on the theory that the danger in getting crossed up, with perhaps serious results, is not worth the possible advantage to be gained.

In Danny Murphy, Connie Mack has the "Mack" of baseball. Murphy can stand in the coach's box at third base, watch the pitcher closely as he prepares to deliver the ball, and 99 times out of 100 he will call the pitch correctly.

In explanation, Murphy will tell you that every pitcher has some certain peculiarity which comes to the surface in the pitching of a certain style of delivery. The moment the pitcher tips his hand, Murphy by a word signal tells the batter what is coming. That enables the batsman to shift his stance and make ready.

To illustrate, there is a certain pitcher in the American League who uses the spitball almost exclusively. His pitching repertoire consists of a deceptive spitball, a fast ball that is as straight as a string, and just an ordinary curve. The pitcher realizes the spitter is his one best bet.

This pitcher throws perhaps four spitballs to every fast one. Hitting the spitter is a difficult task, even when you know it is coming. His fast ball however is very inviting. This pitcher has a certain peculiarity about the way he moustens the ball when he intends throwing the spitter. When he intends using his fast one he takes the movements of the spitball, but the action is entirely different.

Danny Murphy is wise to that little peculiarity. As a result, the Athletics always make it tough for the pitcher in question, who is rated as a star. Mack's team pass up the spitter and boy of the fast one.

Huggins, on the other hand, says nothing doing as far as getting the signals. Those who are with Huggins, may point to the showing of the Yankees last year in comparison with the Athletics. However, that isn't a fair criterion as the strength of the two clubs was in way equal.

RUMMAGE SALE AT COURT HOUSE TUES. AND WED.

ALTROCK RECALLS TIME WHEN HE WALKED EIGHT MEN AND NABBED SEVEN OUT AT FIRST

BY NICK ALTROCK

Probably I never took baseball seriously enough. No matter how close the game I generally was able to get a couple of laughs out of it.

Possibly my lack of seriousness often got me out of a serious hole in which poor pitching or bad fielding often placed me.

One of my pet stunts was to josh the base runners. I believe I had as good a motion to first as any left hander that ever pitched. Nothing gave me greater satisfaction than catching a runner off first base.

I found out by experience that nothing will make a runner take a bigger lead off a base than telling him that he better use a little judgment or he will be caught napping.

This was a favorite with me. "Have a care or I will pick you off." The moment I so warned a base runner, he would immediately take a lead of a few feet more. Such an act was usually fatal. As he took such a lead I would snap the ball to first.

I have often been asked the greatest number of runners I ever caught off first base. In the major leagues I never slipped more than four runners. I have picked off three runners any number of times. My best performance was seven in a game, made while I was pitching for the Los Angeles club.

Eddie Ashenback, in his day the clown of the minors, was in charge of the Sacramento club. When things displeased Ashenback, he would always line some player five or ten bucks, which was quite a jolt in the old days.

I was wild and walked eight men, seven of whom I picked off first base. Every time I picked off a runner, Ashenback would yell so you could hear him all over the park. "That will cost you five." In the eighth inning he reached first on a base on balls. The only time he had gotten on during the game.

"Here is one guy you won't get," yelled Ashenback.

"I can't get you if you keep your feet on the bag," I replied. Whereupon Ashenback, who was a good base runner, proceeded to take a long lead. A quick snap throw and he was an easy out. Getting to his feet, wild with rage, he announced:

"Boys, all the fines are off."

FIGHTERS ARRIVE FOR SHOW IN LIMA TONIGHT

GROSS IS READY TO BATTLE MADDEN

By BILL BARLOW

FORTY-FOUR rounds of boxing in which a dozen sluggers will participate in six separate fights, are slated to be staged in Memorial Hall tonight under auspices of the Lima Gym.

The show, one of the most costly ever put on in this city, will start promptly at eight bells with a preliminary between Young Canfield, of Alger, and Billy Spencer, of Marion.

A variety of bantams, featherweights and welters who appear in the bouts, will undoubtedly dish up an assortment of wallop to the pleasure of the crowd of night fans.

Interest here is divided on two fights.

Jake Gross is drawing considerable attention as the time for his fight with Art Madden of Kalamazoo, Mich., Billy Forsythe, manager of Tomahawk Ramsey, who arrived with his pug Thursday night from Bay City, Mich., says he believes Madden will beat Gross.

MADDEN A TOUGH BOY. He declares Madden carries a wicked punch and unless Gross has improved 100 per cent in a year and half the Lima boy will get the most severe trouncing of his young life.

Lima best Tuesday from Kalamazoo, Mich., with Madden, but nothing has been heard of the pug. They will likely get in before three o'clock this afternoon, when they are slated to weigh in.

Tomahawk Ramsey will battle K. O. Jackie, the Indian heart-eater, who has annexed 12 consecutive knockouts to his credit. This will be his 12th fight after starting to pile up his string of kayoes. Whether No. 13 is his hoodoo remains to be seen, but from reports this Ramsey boy should be able to put him away.

HAS FOUGHT LEONARD. Ramsey fought Benny Leonard in Cleveland in 1918 and stayed in the battle for seven rounds. He has beaten such boys as Johnny Noye, Cal Delaney, Johnny Lewis, Sid Barabian, Eddie White, Johnny Tanager, Happy McHenry and Mickey Brennan.

In the past year Ramsey has accumulated 9 knockouts. He is an aggressive fighter and makes the other fellow put up a battle whether he wants to or not.

Then there is the eight round bout between "Red" Young and "Big Iron" Turner which is not to be overlooked. These two boys fought several months ago and Turner was given a shade over Smith's sorrel tip.

This time Young says it is going to be different. He has been put

Kearns Spurns $200,000 Fight

NEW YORK — An offer of $200,000 for a match between Jack Dempsey and Harry Wills has been spurned into the discard with other small purses, by Jack Kearns, manager of the heavyweight champion.

William A. Brady came forward with the offer—Dempsey to get 75 percent of a match next summer. Kearns, however, says it's a risky business proposition. Not that Dempsey is afraid of Wills, but just "because such a match would not be a financial success."

TODAY'S Sport Angle

"The sport is the thing," was once the slogan in all athletic competition indulged in by the colleges.

"To win," seems to be the thing in these days of keen competition. It is now a survival of the fittest.

No longer can a coach hold his job for any great length of time unless he gets results. To the victor belongs the spoils in the modern viewpoint.

HOGS SPOTLIGHT. For three or four years the University of California has hogged the spotlight on the coast. The coming of Andy Smith, former University of Pennsylvania star, was the start of the great success that California has enjoyed in football.

Leland Stanford has taken a back seat as far as the criterion game is concerned. Compared with California it is simply a small town college.

Stanford wants action in football. In order to improve the standard of football, Glenn Warner, famous coach of the University of Pittsburgh, is on the coast to talk over the football situation.

WILLIAMS PLEASED. Recently University of Minnesota turned Coach Williams loose after he had been in charge of football for 22 years. Williams was not delivering.

There is no doubt but that a winning football team is a great advertising feature for a college. Success in athletics attracts many.

NEW YORK—Cecil "Red" Cough and William Proctor, two of John McGraw's most promising young hurlers, have signed their 1922 contracts.

Query A Day, By Evans

If, with runners on first and second and no one out, the batter attempts to bunt in an effort to move the runners along, which results in a rather high fair fly to the infield, is it regarded as an infield fly?

THE infield fly rule applies with runners on first and second or first, second and third with less than two out, but the case cited is an exception.

When an attempt is made to sacrifice by hunting, the infield fly rule does not apply. The batsman is not out in the case cited. The ball must be handled as on any other ordinary fly ball.

YOST INTENDS TO TRY VOLLEY BALL. Coach Fredling H. Yost of Michigan is willing to tackle anything once.

Ann Arbor Rotarians recently asked him to play on their volley ball team.

"I don't know what the game is, but I'll play," he replied.

He immediately got his suit and prepared for his first practice by asking Tad Wieman, assistant coach, about the game. "Hurry up," is expected to develop into a star by applying his own football principles to the game.

TO STAY HOME. NEW YORK — Charley Paddock, world's champion sprinter, will not come east this winter to run for any one, a telegram from his manager to disappointed New York promoters said today.

ARLISS IS A COMEDIAN IN HIS LATEST FILM

(By ESTHER WAGNER)

Picture George Arliss without his monocle and wearing coveralls, and a dilapidated slouch hat. That in itself sounds comical. Well, Arliss appears that way in his latest film, "The Ruling Passion." And it takes Arliss back to the kind of performance in which he was famous 20 years ago. He was one of the most famous of satirical comedians until David Belasco induced him to assume a character role. "The Ruling Passion" is a satire on the retired business man. A wealthy auto engine manufacturer is ordered to retire by his physician. Rest, complete rest, was the prescription. But the obituary columns were full of notices of deaths of retired men. So Arliss, incognito, buys half interest in a garage. He learns that he and his youthful partner have been swindled. He uses his wits rather than his wealth to triumph over unfair competition. After a year of tinkering with engines and filling gasoline tanks he is restored to perfect health—and the physician attributes it to his complete rest.

His youthful partner falls in love with his daughter. This romance is also a source of interest to the old man, for his daughter knows nothing of his life in the garage and his partner is not aware that he is the girl's father.

Here is a picture off the beaten path of movie comedies. Arliss is Arliss, as he was in "Disraeli," but he's a different Arliss. Doris Kenyon makes a very pleasing heroine and the other players fit their characters as naturally as an old shoe fits a tender foot.

Gareth Hughes In a Splendid Vehicle

HE refreshingly original and amusing story of "Little Eva Ascends" provides ideal material for Gareth Hughes, whose unique personality has not always been favored with the right kind of stories. The one, tho, might have been written for him especially, so nicely does it suit his talents.

As the title would indicate, "Little Eva Ascends" embodies a clever little burlesque on "Uncle Tom's Cabin." The story's all about a stage-struck mother and her two boys. To her, a career and a chance to act mean everything, so she goes her way blithely, leaving the boys to fend for themselves. The younger son, Roy, is a little fellow, ever anxious to please, who, whenever he happens to see a play, is sure to be seen. The older son, Roy, is a little fellow, ever anxious to please, who, whenever he happens to see a play, is sure to be seen.

So, you are permitted to witness the performance of Ma St. George's troupe; you see Ma herself as the persecuted Eliza, saving her child from the bloodhounds. And you see Gareth Hughes as Little Eva, golden curls in everything, ascending to heaven—that is, he almost ascends but fate and a gang of small boys in the gallery intervene.

There's a pretty little romance evident thruout the film, also a note of mystery which, after all, isn't so mysterious either. Miss Hughes, as I said before, scores heavily in the leading role. May he continue to be so lucky in the selection of his stories. Either Field and May Collins as the youthful romantics, are pleasing. Miss Collins, my dears, is the girl in whom Charlie Chaplin is said to be so interested. Can't blame him a bit.

"Little Eva Ascends" is playing at the Sigma today and Saturday. Better take it in and enjoy a well-acted and amusing little photoplay.

Well—Gene O'Brien—In a Good Film!

IT will be with much pleasure and gratification that you watch Mr. Eugene O'Brien in "Clay Dollars." You will realize that Mr. O'Brien is really a "regular" actor. I liked his present vehicle very much. The story has a rural atmosphere. It is less, with a dash of city pep injected by Mr. O'Brien. This young gentleman, who as Bruce Edwards, comes down to take charge of a farm which he has inherited, and which he always knew was a corker. Now, he finds that a slippery individual named Sam Wilets, has, by a trick, secured rights to the property from leaving Bruce in the lurch. In a word, it's a story of a farm and a city boy.

The tale from here henceforward becomes more or less a duel of wits with a romance worked out on the side. There is some good acting by a splendid supporting cast, nice photography and considerable Yankee humor. The plot works itself out smoothly and not too openly. What I mean is, you aren't just sure where everybody's going till they get there. That's good stuff in any picture.

So, one looks forward with interest to such pictures as "Clay Dollars" and hope and trust that Eugene O'Brien may continue on the way he has started.

uled. And right away the fellow gets the terrible close-up but there are moments of real acting and the photographer, whoever he is, has secured many wonderful effects. Nice scenery, too.

Miss Jane Novak, the blonde lady who was once reported engaged to your hero, has the leading feminine role in this picture and goes about her usual bearded, and much abused business. She's the one the three-word name loves. Others in the cast, as a rule, are acceptable. As a whole, you'll enjoy Mr. Hart and his "Three Word Brand" as much, if not more than, every other film he has given. At the Faurot today.

"Gambols of 1921" at the Orpheum

A new and scintillating bill of amusement is in progress at the Orpheum theatre, where the "Gambols of 1921" continue to hold forth as the special attraction.

The company includes a pair of jolly and at times rather funny comedians; a nice young lady with a good voice; a rather young and neat-looking young man who plays the piano, sings and dances, and in short makes himself useful.

The chorus ladies, quite a number of them, form background for most of the numbers.

In addition to the regular program, the bill tonight includes contest of amateur talent.
